ITALY EMBARKS A GREAT FORCE TO OCCUPY TRIPOLI

Sixty Transports Loaded With Troops Now on Mediterranean Bound for Scene of the Big Grab.

The advance guard of the Italian army of occupation landed today at Tobruk on the northeastern coast of Tripoli, 60 miles east of the city of Tripoli and 75 miles west of the Egyptian frontier. Tobruk is one of the gateways to the richest and best part of the Turkish province and that section of Tripoli which the Italians are said to covet particularly. Thus is begun the occupation proper upon the accomplishment of which depends Italy's willingness to entertain peace proposals.

The larger part of the Italian expedition is still at sea closely guarded by warships. Many transports carrying thousands of soldiers sailed from Italy last night and early today and others will leave tonight. At a council of the Turkish ministry it was decided to close Italian industry, financial and scholastic institutions in Turkey and to seize Italian vessels.

WAR BULLETINS.

Constantinople, Oct. 10.—At a cabinet council today it was decided to close all Italian industrial, financial and scholastic establishments in Turkey and to seize Italian steamers.

Rome, Oct. 10.—The first Italian expeditionary force, which left Naples October 5, was landed at Tobruk, Tripoli, today. It consisted of infantry, artillery and a company of engineers.

Malta, Oct. 10.—It was reported here today that 40,000 Italian troops left Agosta, Sicily, for Tripoli, last night on fifty transports which were escorted by the second division of the fleet under Vice Admiral Thaon Di Revel.

Berlin, Oct. 10.—It is learned in diplomatic circles in Italy probably is willing to indemnify Turkey to the extent of about $12,000,000, but it is a question whether she is still willing to recognize Turkish suzerainty over Tripoli in any form.

GRAIN DEALERS MEET.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 10.—The convention of the Grain Dealers' National association in this city took up matters of business today. United States Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock was the principal speaker at the morning session. He had for a subject "The Principle of Good Government as Applied to Business." Several candidates, among them A. E. Reynolds, of Crawfordville, Ind., are spoken of for the presidency.

RIVAL LOVE FEAST HOLDS THE BOARDS IN RUSHVILLE

Sunny Jim Sherman, Fairbanks and Hemmenway Illumine Republicans—Shively and Kern Shine on Democrats.

Rushville, Ind., Oct. 10.—One republican vice president will be pitted against two democratic United States senators at rival love feasts of Indiana republicans and democrats here tonight. Besides Vice President James S. Sherman the republicans will have as "added attractions" a former vice president, Charles W. Fairbanks; a former speaker of the house, Joseph G. Cannon, and a former United States senator, James A. Hemenway. The democrats will depend on United States Senators John W. Kern and Benjamin Shively.

It was not at first intended that there should be competition for political favor of this John K. Gowdy's home country. Every year the Rushville Merchants' association have a "big bargain day" and some man large in the public eye is asked to speak on that day. The merchants' sole idea being to boom business. Vice President Sherman agreed to be the "headline" of this year's "bargain day." Former Congressman James E. Watson, whose home is here, then took a hand and while he heartily approved of a non-partisan reception and "bargain day" festival this afternoon he saw no reason why he should not stage a state-wide republican love feast with Mr. Sherman as the principal speaker tonight. Mr. Watson and Mr. Sherman have together stormed the enemy, democratic and insurgent republican, all through the United States. So Mr. Sherman obtained promises from Messrs. Fairbanks, Cannon and Hemenway to attend the "bargain day" and love feast. He advertised the attractions all through the state with the result that people from far and wide began to pour into Rushville early today and a great crowd was assembled.

Democratic politicians began to get busy when they learned of Mr. Watson's coup. Under the leadership of Lieutenant Governor Frank J. Hall a democratic "smoker" was arranged for tonight, and the voices of Senators Kern and Shively will be raised in opposition to those of the republican leaders. The vice president will shake hands with most of the city's guests this afternoon. And all of today the Rushville Merchants' association rubbed its collective hands and beamed.

LEAVES TOLEDO NOV. 1 ON ITS TRIP UP MAUMEE RIVER

National Waterways Commission Expects to Reach Fort Wayne for Canal Hearing Day or Two Later.

The national waterways commission will reach Fort Wayne very early in November for its hearings upon the feasibility and desirability of the proposition to construct a barge canal from Lake Erie and Lake Michigan, by way of the Maumee river and Fort Wayne.

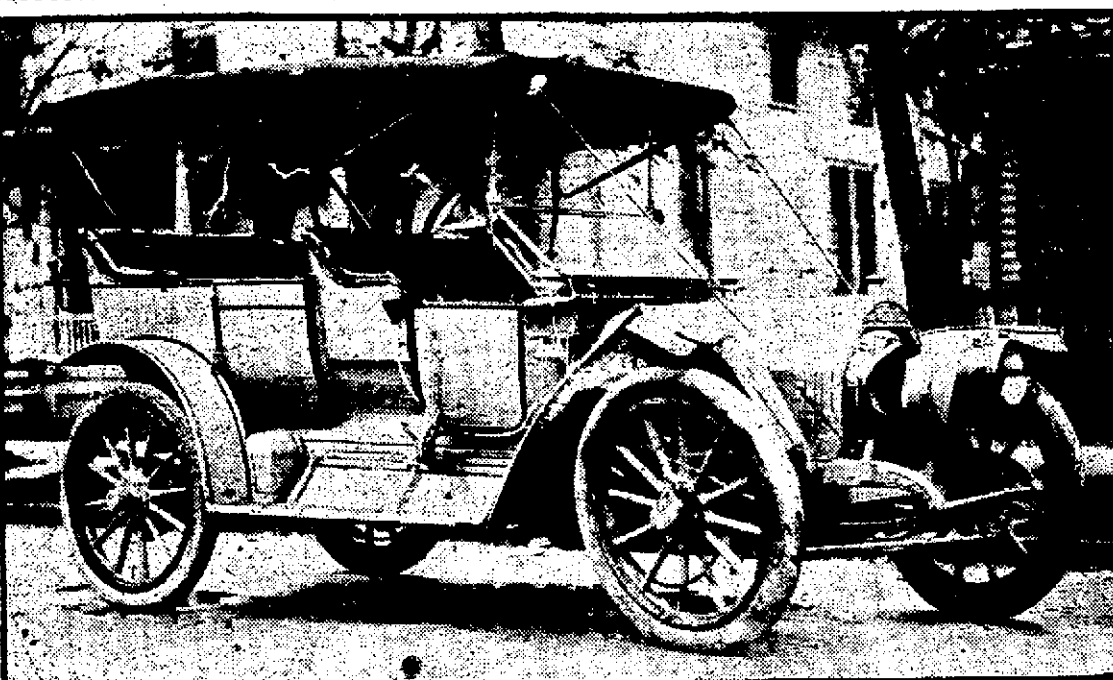

Information received today by T. J. Logan, secretary of the Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago Waterways association, is to the effect that the commission, acting under the provision of the Rivers and Harbors bill, passed by the last congress, is planning to leave Toledo November 1 for its inspection of the river and its trip to Fort Wayne, where it will hold public hearings upon the proposition.

Secretary J. H. McGann, of the commission, says the party will include six or eight members of the commission, two government engineers and two secretaries. Mr. McGann explains that Senator Burton, who is chairman of the commission, is now in Europe, and will not return before October 29, but that it is desirable to complete the preparations for the river inspection before his arrival.

The party will leave Toledo by boat on the morning of November 1 and will travel up the Maumee river as far as Defiance, probably spending the night there and making the journey from Defiance to Fort Wayne by rail on the following day. Mr. McGann says it is expected that time enough will be spent in Fort Wayne at the hearing to permit all who desire to be heard on the canal proposition to present their case. Inquiry is made regarding hotel accommodations here and also for a room in which the hearing may be held. The hearings will be held at no other point than Fort Wayne, and local advocates of the canal will see that its advantages are properly presented to the national commission.

WRECKED AUTO, STAINED WITH BLOOD, ABANDONED IN SUPERIOR STREET BY JOY RIDERS AFTER ACCIDENT.

BLOOD-STAINED AUTO TELLS MUTE STORY OF JOY RIDE

Occupants Suffered Injury in Wreck on West Superior Street and Abandoned Machine There.

A big Auburn automobile, wrecked in a collision with a telephone pole on West Superior street, near Webster, and bespattered with blood from cuts inflicted when the force of the impact with the telephone pole had plunged the head of one of the occupants of the car through the glass windshield, told the mute story of joy ride early today.

The car had been abandoned in the street after repeated efforts to start it following the accident, and a trail of blood extending northward on Ewing street to Main told of the course of the injured rider in hurrying away from the scene to get surgical attention. In the car were three handkerchiefs, two of them men's and one bearing the monogram "J. L." and the third a ladies' handkerchief with the laundry mark "G." The larger handkerchiefs were saturated with blood in the attempt to staunch the hemorrhage from the cuts. Blood was spattered about the forward part of the car, a pair of gloves which had been worn by the driver and discarded were also bloody, and to the edge of the shattered windshield glass at one point clung a bit of flesh, apparently cut from the closely-shaven face of some man whose beard when allowed to grow is black.

Much mystery surrounded the case when the police took up an investigation of it this morning. The car had been stolen from the garage of Dr. L. L. Gardner, 925 Lake avenue, and the trail followed showed that it had been driven in zig-zag fashion through a part of Lakeside, narrowly missing a plunge down the bank into the river along St. Joe boulevard. On West Superior street the car, which must have been driven at a high rate of speed, plunged into a telephone pole at the north curb, wrecking the fender, the front axle, a gas lamp and other portions of the car, while a great hole through the left side of the windshield indicates that whoever was occupying the seat with the driver had thrust his head through the heavy glass when the machine struck the telephone pole. The impact had sufficient force to loosen the pole in the earth and to snap off a cross-arm near the top of the pole.

Dr. Gardner at once placed the case in the hands of the police, but said he was unable to give any definite idea of the identity of the occupants of the car. The car must have been taken from the garage about 1:30 o'clock, and it was near 2 o'clock when people living on West Superior street were awakened by the noise of the crash. Those who climbed out of bed to ascertain the cause saw they saw two young men in the car trying to start the engine, but they hurried away after a fruitless attempt to get the machine in motion again, and their identity remained a secret. The police believe they will be able to discover who the occupants of the car were with little difficulty, but early inquiry failed to disclose any call for a surgeon to attend the injured joy rider. The damage to the car will hardly exceed $300.

RAILWAY WILL NOW TRY TO BE GOOD

Ouster Suits Against the Hocking Valley Are Dismissed.

LET GO OF HOLDINGS

Columbus, O., Oct. 10.—Ouster proceedings brought by the state of Ohio against the Hocking Valley railroad were ended today upon the promise of the railroad company to relinquish control of certain coal companies and competing railroads. The supreme court of Ohio dismissed the petition in error of the railroad with consent of both parties to the suit, and upon the condition that the plaintiff would bear the costs.

Will Let Go of Holdings.

The Hocking Valley railroad has agreed to dispose of its holdings in the Toledo & Ohio Central railroad, the Sunday Creek Coal company and other railroads and coal companies and to manage its business in accordance to the statutes hereafter. The suit was originally brought in December, 1904, to oust the Hocking Valley railroad from its corporate powers, franchises and to liquidate its affairs. It was bitterly contested by the railroad. In its petition the state charged that the Hocking Valley railroad by purchasing a majority interest in the Buckeye Coal and Railroad company the Toledo & Ohio Central Railroad company the Kanawha & Michigan railroad, the Zanesville & Western railroad and the Sunday Creek Coal Mining company sought to gain a complete monopoly of the Hocking Valley coal fields.

What the State Alleged.

To effect this the state alleged the Hocking Valley railroad and its subsidiaries formed the Continental Coal company incorporated under the laws

REJUVENATED BY DIET.

Grand Junction, Col., Oct. 10.—Toothless, weakened in body and spirit and nearly sixty years old, J. W. Sawyer, in January, 1910, tried a diet of raw vegetables, cereals and fruit, and by not eating cooked food in any form is now the picture of health, strong as a young man, and claims to have the best digestion in Grand Junction.

"I would not go back to the old diet under any consideration," said Sawyer. "In the last year and a half I have gained strength, energy, clearness of mind and my digestion is perfect." Sawyer's menu consists of raw fruit, corn, wheat, barley, rye, oats, honey, carrots, parsnips, radishes, cabbage, sweet potatoes, beets, etc., all eaten without salt or sugar. In place of meat he eats nuts, especially almonds and Spanish peanuts.

AN INVENTIVE SMALL BOY.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 10.—Robert, the four year old son of John Planck, of Walton, ten miles south of Logansport, did not have a candle to place in a pumpkin head, so he poured some gasoline into it last night. He applied a match and the flames that flashed through the eyes, nose and mouth of the pumpkin fired his night dress. He was badly burned, but was so scantily dressed the fire soon exhausted itself.

SEASON OF REST ON BATTLE'S EVE

Election Halts Proceedings in Trial of the McNamara Boys.

IT OPENS TOMORROW

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—As if in preparation for what promises to be one of the most momentous and protracted struggles in the history of criminal law, judge, veniremen and attorneys in the McNamara case had a brief respite today.

A state wide special election on constitutional amendments stopped legal machinery that is designed to show whether either John J. McNamara, international secretary of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union, or his brother Jas. B. McNamara is guilty of murder in connection with the explosion and fire which a year ago wrecked the Los Angeles Times plant and cost twenty-one lives. For the deaths of nineteen of these McNamaras are held on indictment.

Much of the time of District Attorney John H. Fredericks was occupied in advising election officers and keeping that situation in hand. Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, of Chicago, chief of counsel for the defense and his associates, worked during the day in their long suite of offices, but made no formal appearance.

No Choice for First Trial.

District Attorney Fredericks was asked when he would determine which McNamara should stand trial first.

"Tomorrow at 10 a. m.," he replied. "It isn't necessary to decide until then and it saves changing your mind." At that time will appear the forty-five veniremen left out of 122 after yesterday's preliminary examination by Judge Walter Bordwell, and unless present plans are changed, they will be taken in hand by counsel of both sides. None of them is to be examined as to opinion, prejudice or similar possible qualifications.

How long it will take to get a jury that will see extended confinement is considered problematical. General belief here today was that if one juryman is secured from the forty-five the progress will be excellent.

UNVEIL PEACE MONUMENT.

Notable Event Takes Place in Piedmont Park, Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 10.—Another milestone along the way of interstate peace leading from southern battlefields was unveiled here today. Soldiers of three wars from seven states of the north and south and a great host of spectators saw unveiled in Piedmont park a peace monument to commemorate the work of the famous mission of peace undertaken by the Gate City guards of Atlanta in its trip north in 1870.

Governor Baldwin, of Connecticut, was the principal speaker. Preceding the unveiling of the monument there was a parade of crack military organizations of the country, including the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston, the Putnam Phalanx of Hartford, Conn., the Governor's Foot Guard of Hartford, the Fencibles of Philadelphia and a number of lesser organizations from northern and southern cities.

WOMAN IS BADLY BURNED.

Mrs. Opal Sapon Suffers in Gasoline Explosion at Garrett.

Garrett, Ind., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. Opal Sapon, about 35 years of age, wife of John Sapon, was frightfully burned about the face and arms in an explosion of gasoline at 10:30 o'clock this morning. She was hurried to the Sacred Heart hospital, where it is said her recovery is a matter of doubt. In some manner the gasoline tank on the stove became overheated, and as Mrs. Sapon attempted to carry it out of doors the tank exploded and the flaming gasoline was thrown over the woman. The house was badly damaged by the fire.

WAITED IN SALOONS WHILE HIS WIFE EARNED A LIVING

So Mrs. Adams Says and She is Tired of It and Asks Court for Her Freedom and Her Automobile.

Daisy B. Adams says in her divorce complaint filed in the superior court today that although her husband was always willing to secure engagements for her to appear as a violinist and cornet player at public exhibitions and on several occasions obtained and spent for drink the money she earned, he was never willing to stay and hear her play and generally spent his time in saloons in the neighborhood of where she appeared and called for her after she had finished.

She charges, moreover, that he refused more than once to accompany her at all and that frequently he didn't finish his engagements with the white-aproned fraternity as soon as she did with her audiences and that he called too late to see her safely home. Mrs. Adams was formerly Daisy B. Whisman and she wants to have her maiden name restored by the court.

The wife says that her husband is a traveling salesman and is capable of earning $100 a month and that shortly after their marriage he got as much as $125 a month, but that he spent so much of his time viewing ceilings through the bottom of beer and whisky glasses that he lost out. Then she gave him some money to buy a second-hand automobile and start a repair shop and she alleges he didn't attend to business and spent his time joy-riding in her auto.

She took away the spark plug once and he got another. Then she changed the lock on the building in which the machine is kept and he pulled it off and put his own lock on and is now in possession. She got out a restraining order to keep him out of the auto and to prevent the disposal of any of his property.

It is evident from the tone of the complaint that the husband was not aware of the presence of a tilt in the Sunday lid as she charges that he frequently bought his beer on Saturday and would consume unaided as high as ten quarts on the Sabbath. She asks $1,000 alimony. The suit is filed by Thomas & Townsend.

HAS OVER SEVEN MILLIONS OF INSURANCE NOW IN FORCE

Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Association of Allen County Closes a Most Successful Year.

With more than seven million dollars of insurance in force, a substantial gain during the past twelve months, and with the insurance carried at a total cost of 10 1/2 cents on each $100, including agents' commissions, the Farmers' Mutual Fire Association of Allen county has just closed one of the most successful years in its history.

The annual meeting was held today in the assembly room of the court house. George V. Kell, president of the association, presided, and reports were submitted by Secretary W. A. Kelsey, Treasurer G. W. Wilbur and Actuary Jerome Gloyd. The reports

Total receipts for the year were

LORIMER CASE IS AGAIN ON BOARDS

Illinois Solon Repeats a Story of the Offer of Block of Votes.

NOTHING NEW SHOWN

Chicago, Oct. 10.—State Senator Frank A. Landee, of Moline, testifying before the Lorimer investigation committee of the United States senate here today, declared that the late Charles A. Luke, former state representative, offered for sale a block of ten votes for U. S. senator at the 1900 session of the Illinois legislature. Under a vigorous cross-examination Senator Landee admitted that he had not taken seriously the offer of Luke, because Luke had been drinking.

Sensor Landee was the sole witness examined at the morning session of the federal committee.

Sensor Lea, of Tennessee, arrived last in the session. No new evidence was expected at the first session of the re-opening of the investigation. Eight witnesses, seven of them members of the Illinois general assembly by which Senator Lorimer was elected, were scheduled as the first witnesses. All of these have testified before, either before the Helm committee in Springfield or the first United States senate committee which investigated the corruption charges.

Rules of Evidence Discarded.

Sensor Dillingham, chairman of the committee, announced that the rules of testimony would not be followed in the coming sessions.

"We shall continue to allow all testimony bearing in any way upon the investigation to be admitted, regardless of legal technicalities," he said. "We are determined that there shall be no possible ground for criticism because of the exclusion of any evidence."

John B. Healey, of counsel for the committee, and Elbridge Haney, of Mr. Lorimer's counsel, held a brief conference before the first witness was called. Mr. Lorimer was present. State Senator Frank A. Landee, of Moline, was the first witness called. Attorney Healey interrogated him regarding the senatorial deadlock at Springfield. "I would like to call your attention to an alleged conversation with Charles Luke," said Healey. "Did you have such a conversation?"

COLORADO FLOOD GREAT DISASTER

Torrential Rains Cause a Loss Said to Be in the Millions.

REPORT LIVES LOST

Denver, Col., Oct. 10.—With telephone and telegraph service crippled and more than 300 miles of railroad out of commission, only meager reports are being received from the flood-swept district of southwestern Colorado and northeastern section of New Mexico, comprising an area approximating 100 by 75 miles.

There are rumors of heavy loss of life, but the verified death list so far is comparatively small. John Rice was drowned while aiding in the rescue of pupils at the Methodist mission school near Farmington, N. M., and near Blanca, Col., a Mexican family of seven are reported drowned. From various other points some reports of seeing persons swept away in the flood.

From Alamosa comes a report that twenty Indians at the shipwreck agency of the Navajos were lost in the waters. All of the buildings at the agency, erected by the government at a cost of $200,000, are reported to have been destroyed.

Property loss is estimated at approximately $5,000,000. Practically the entire narrow gauge system of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, known as the Rio Grande Southern, is out of commission and train service to a number of towns cannot be resumed, it is said, under sixty days.

WORKING BOTH ENDS.

Mexico, Mo., Oct. 10.—A jury in the probate court here, according to a verdict filed today, decided that it was unlawful for a doctor who is, also a preacher, to charge for preaching at the funeral of a patient he has attended.

Dr. F. M. Shoush attended Mrs. Susan Parks during her illness. When she died he preached the funeral sermon. Then he made out a statement of his services, which contained the item, "Ten dollars for preaching the funeral." A. S. Pauls, administrator of the estate, objected to the charge and Judge W. W. Botts, of the probate court, called in a jury to decide the question. The jury deducted the ten dollars from the bill.

FORT WAYNE BOY AVIATOR MAKES SPLENDID FLIGHT

Art Smith in Aeroplane of His Own Construction Flies from City to New Haven and Will Fly Back.

Arthur Smith, the Fort Wayne birdman, came into his own today. Driving an aeroplane of his own construction, the young aviator made a brilliantly successful flight from Fort Wayne to New Haven this afternoon, circled over that town and landed safely in a field on the farm of John Ehinger, north of the Mamie river at New Haven.

Two thousand people, electrified at the unexpected appearance of the aviator, watched his course above New Haven and then hurried to the spot where his landing was made. The trip was without accident of any sort, and Smith announced that after a rest of twenty minutes he would start on the return journey to Fort Wayne.

Triumph for Young Smith came after months of patient endeavor, but it appears to have been complete. Starting more than a year ago upon the building of his Curtiss-type biplane, Smith has met mishap after mishap and discouragement after discouragement, but his faith in his machine has never wavered, and in a test today his confidence was more than justified.

For several days Smith has been making successful tests of his machine at the old golf grounds at the eastern limits of the city, and he announced early today that he would attempt a flight to New Haven. During the morning he made a number of trips about the field, without attempting to reach a height above twenty-five feet until he was absolutely sure of his machine.

Word that the flight to New Haven was to be attempted brought a considerable crowd to the grounds this afternoon, and the preparations for the first real flight were watched with keen interest. Smith's machine has been named the "Honey-Bug" and on the trip he carried with him his mascot, his pet cat, bearing the name "Punk," which was for the time confined in a bird cage attached to the machine.

The ascent was made in handsome style. Smith drove his aeroplane to a height of perhaps 150 to 200 feet and sailed off eastward so smoothly and easily as could have been desired in the performance of the most experienced navigator of the air.

Left Pilot Car Far in Rear. Smith had arranged for an automobile to follow him, and as he swung over the New Haven road the pilot car started in hot pursuit. It carried Miss Amy Cour, Fred Stein, William Schorr, a mechanic, and a representative of The Sentinel.

So rapid was Smith's flight that within a short time he had left the pilot car far in the rear, and by the time the automobile had reached the Four Mile house Smith was circling above the town of New Haven, in plain view of the occupants of the car but far ahead of them.

Crowds Offer Congratulations. New Haven people evinced the keenest interest in the appearance of the aviator, and as the young man came to the earth in safety on the north side of the town hundreds crowded about him to offer congratulations. Smith, himself, was plainly pleased at his accomplishment, though he remarked that he had never doubted that the machine would be a success.

The pilot car, which had turned back toward Fort Wayne upon receipt of the report that Smith had circled the town of New Haven and was returning to

BIRD-BOY ARTHUR SMITH.

Fort Wayne without landing, made a hurried run into New Haven to witness the start back to Fort Wayne, which was scheduled for shortly after 3 o'clock.

After he had landed Smith explained that the connecting rod on his machine became disabled while he was 200 feet in the air and stopped his engine. He was compelled to volplane to the earth, which he did, landing safely. He is now repairing the rod and as soon as it is completed will resume his flight to Fort Wayne.

CAUGHT ON BRIDGE; ONE DEAD.

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 10. Rufus, aged 12; Walter, 10, and Ora, 6, sons of Gabriel Shiner, a laborer and father of ten children, were caught on a Big Four trestle by a freight train today and Walter was killed. Rufus escaped by jumping, and Ora crouched between two ties while the train passed over him.

NOT READY TO MAKE REPORT.

Indianapolis, Oct. 10. The special examiners in charge of collecting evidence to lay before the state railroad commission in preparing for damages in express rates in the state were not ready to report to the commission today and a continuance until Oct. 25 was granted.

MUM ON WALSH CASE.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Department of justice officials declined to discuss the case of John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker, beyond the statement that it was not true that Walsh had been paroled. This denial was made emphatically, but official announcement of the status of the case was not concluded. It was stated that the parole papers had not yet reached Attorney General Wickes.

FLOOD IS THREATENED.

Akron, O., Oct. 10.—The lakes in this vicinity are four feet above normal as a result of the heavy rains and the levees are inundated in many places. The stage of water is within three inches of the record.

MORMON BRIDE
ROUTS ABDUCTORS

MRS. P. C. DAMINA.

A pretty Mormon bride has demonstrated to the world that the sturdy stuff of which the Brigham Young pioneers were made has been handed down to the daughters of the Mormon elders of today. Braving the terrors of a lonely mountain canyon in Utah, and with her fingers trembling on the trigger of a shotgun, Mrs. Mary Damina, a Mormon Bishop's daughter, held at bay a score or more of "Gentiles" who had kidnapped her bridegroom and were treating him to their revenge for his daring to take to himself a Mormon wife.

THE DEATHS.

M'GUIRE.

Mrs. Ann McGuire, aged 77, passed away at 7 o'clock this morning following a long siege of illness. Mrs. McGuire was one of the pioneer residents of this city. She came to this country from Ireland when she was a small child, and in 1865, she moved to this city and became the wife of Owen McGuire, who died several years ago. The deceased leaves two sons—John, of Detroit, and Peter, of Grand Rapids, and two daughters—Jessie, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Henry Sommers, of 122 E. Washington street, of this city. For the last few years Mrs. McGuire made her home with Mrs. Sommers.

The deceased was a sincere church worker, and since her residence in this city had been a member of the Catholic church. She was one of the oldest members of the Rosary society.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 8 o'clock at the home, and at 9 o'clock from the Catholic church, interment in the Catholic cemetery.

CRANCE.

Mrs. David Crance, of 812 Greeley street, expired at the St. Joseph's hospital Monday evening following a severe operation. Mrs. Crance had been in ill health for some time and physicians advised an operation, although there was slight chance for her recovery. She only lived a few minutes after the operation.

The deceased is survived by her husband; one son, James Arthur, and two daughters, Mrs. Alva Overly, and two sons, Mrs. James Baker and Mrs. Thos. Tomes, all of this city. Mrs. Crance was 50 years 1 month and 3 days old at the time of her death. She was a member of Zion Bass post, No. 40, Women's Relief corps.

Funeral from the home at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment in the Prairie Grove cemetery, five miles south of Fort Wayne.

MILLER.

Charles Miller, the two-year-old son of Fred Miller, of 347 Melita street, was taken away this morning at 6 o'clock by the dread ravings of diphtheria. The little child was the youngest of the three children of Mr. Miller, and the parents are grief-stricken over their untimely loss.

The funeral services were conducted at the home this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

HAS OVER SEVEN MIL-

LION OF INSURANCE

$1,893.15 and disbursements on the year's business were $6,885.51. The year started with an overdraft, so that the net balance in the association treasury at the close of the fiscal year was $2,905.86. But one assessment was made during the year.

In his report Treasurer George W. Willbur noted the interesting fact that during the fourteen years he had served the association as treasurer he had paid out the sum of $128,562.96.

Messrs. Jerome Glynn and George W. Willbur were re-elected to the board of directors at the afternoon session. The terms of G. V. Kell, W. A. Kelsey and J. A. Peters have not expired. It is said there will be no change in officers for the coming year.

BLACKHAND OUTRAGE.

Tenement House in Wheeling Suburb is Blown Up.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 10.—Four persons are believed to have been killed at Benwood, a suburb, early today as the result of a "blackhand" outrage, when a big frame tenement, housing forty persons, was blown up and burned. The house was owned by Edward Kolinsky, who, with his family, and a large number of boarders, were asleep when a heavy charge of dynamite exploded at one corner of the building. The structure was blown apart and fire immediately followed. A woman with two children in her arms stood for a moment at a window then fell back into the flames. A similar scene was enacted when a man attempted to escape from one of the upper stories. Kolinsky had received a demand from the "blackhand" for $1,500.

UNION WAR VETERANS MEET.

Survivors of the Army of the Tennessee at Council Bluffs.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Oct. 10.—The opening day of the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee was marked today by the arrival of many veterans from all parts of the country. The feature of the day was the unveiling of the Lincoln memorial on the spot where the martyred president was a guest of Major General Grenville M. Dodge, of this city, fifty years ago.

Gen. Frederick D. Grant was on the program for a speech immediately following the unveiling.

MEDICINE MAKERS COMPLAIN.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Claiming to market practically all of the proprietary medicines, drugs and lotions in this country, the Proprietary Association of America today complained to the interstate commerce commission that the rate on the immense volume of advertising matter it ships from New York to Chicago over the New York Central and other railroads should be 35c a hundred pounds instead of 75c, which exceeds the value of the shipments.

RACE FOR A BEAST'S LIFE.

Greenville, S. C., Oct. 10.—Somewhere between this place and Spartanburg, S. C., there is a negro criminal at stake. The life of a negro is being taken to Spartanburg to escape ten automobiles full of men who undoubtedly will lynch him if caught. He was rushed from Anderson by officers after being arrested for an attack on a little girl. They beat the mob into this town by ten minutes, transferred their prisoner to another machine and departed.

DON'T LOOK GOOD TO CONTRACTORS

No Bids for Joint Stone Road and the Matter is at Standstill.

NOTES OF THE COURTS

Bonds on property in Jefferson township in Wells county do not look good to road contractors or to investors and as a result no bids were received at Bluffton this morning for a joint stone road proposed along the line of Marion township in Allen county.

The township is bonded up to the limit and will be for several years and for that reason nobody dared to take a chance on any road bonds and the project will probably have to be abandoned.

Looking Over Building. A party of county officials from Manitowish, Wis., arrived at noon today to look over the court house decorations with Contractor Andrews, who is bidding on a county building there.

Other Women in Case. Gertrude Tobias says in her complaint against Raymond E. Tobias that he gave more attention to other women than to her and that as soon as she found it out she left him. It is charged that he boasted to her of his relations with these women and that he remained away all night with them.

They were married in December, 1909, and separated about a month ago and they have one child of which the mother asks the custody. She says that he owns a third interest in a millinery store and she asks $200 a year for the support of the child. Somers and Kennerk are her attorneys.

LORIMER CASE IS AGAIN ON BOARD

Hopkins Would Confess Across.

"Yes," replied Mr. Lande, "I met Mr. Luke in a Springfield hotel a month or three weeks before Mr. Lorimer's election. I was on my way to Albert J. Hopkins' room in the hotel. Luke told me he could deliver ten votes providing the conditions were right."

"I said to him, 'I thought you were going to vote for Hopkins.' He said, 'No, I am not. Hopkins won't come across.' Senator Lande was then questioned regarding a visit to his home at Maline in 1909 of John L. Hughes, of Chicago, a friend of Mr. Lorimer. The witness testified that Hughes urged the candidacy of Lorimer.

"Hopkins, the man you are voting for," Hughes said to me, 'is an impossibility. Now you follow Mr. Lorimer and I will be to your advantage. Lorimer's name will not be presented to the legislature until we have every vote we need to elect him. Mr. Lorimer will be elected on the first ballot.'"

NON-UNION MEN IN BURNSIDE SHOPS

Places of Strikers Are Being Filled on Illinois Central.

SITUATION IS QUIET

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Two hundred non-union machinists from Eastern cities arrived at the Burnside shops today in a special train of four coaches and immediately were assigned to work.

Strikers surrounded the plant and quietly watched the strike breakers march into the shops guarded by police and railroad detectives. There are now said to be more than 1,000 shopmen at work in the Burnside plant or nearly one-third of the regular force. Strike leaders expressed disappointment that no definite steps toward peace resulted from the conference held by President Markham of the Illinois Central railroad, Governor Noel of Mississippi and union shopmen at Jackson, Miss.

Forty men who said they were brought here from the south to act as strikebreakers in the Illinois Central shops were sheltered at the municipal lodging house last night. The men said that they were afraid to go to work after they reached here, fearing they would be roughly handled.

Crowds of men gathered on the streets at Burnside were asked to disperse this morning by members of the unions who said that the strikers would receive the blame if any trouble should result.

Twenty more striking car builders returned to work today. A force of carpenters is busy building booths near the plant for use of paymasters in paying the strikers their September wages tomorrow.

J. A. Franklin, international president of the boiler makers and M. F. Ryan, international president of railway car men, are in the city conferring with the committee managing the strike in Chicago.

Man Who Started Charges Against Stephenson Acted on Hearsay.

FRANKLY ADMITS IT

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 10.—Brought face to face with the charges which he had made that United States Senator Isaac Stephenson secured his election through bribery and corruption State Senator John J. Blaine admitted before the senatorial investigating committee today that practically all his charges, which started the investigation, were based on information which he had accepted as true without a personal investigation.

"I'm so sure that you were willing to make these charges without investigation and which, if proven true, might put Senator Stephenson in the penitentiary," asked Senator Heyburn.

"That's right," replied Blaine. "I had no time to investigate. From what I had heard the presumption was that Senator Stephenson was using his campaign funds wrongfully."

Blaine said part of his charges were based on an editorial in a paper opposed to Senator Stephenson.

Covered Up Slush Fund. How $2,500 was paid to State Game Warden T. W. Stone out of the campaign fund of United States Senator Stephenson and how Stone, to "cover up" what was done with the money, got his deputies to "pretend" to having received portions of it whereas in fact the money was paid to others, was told today before the United States senate committee. C. E. Kingsley, who was a deputy game warden during the Wisconsin primaries in 1908, when Senator Stephenson sought nomination, testified that in March, 1909, when the investigation by the state legislature was under way he was called to Stone's home at Madison. The meeting was at midnight, and among those present were Deputy Game Wardens Kingsley, Johnson and Richmond, Assemblymen Thomas and Stone.

"Stone said he had to account for $2,500 and he wanted us to pretend we had received part of it," said Kingsley. "Stone had to testify before the legislative committee what was done with the money and instead of telling what really was done with it, he wanted us to say we got it. I was to pretend to have received $250, Johnson $250, and Richmond $150."

Were to Be Spared Giving Testimony. "We agreed to do this on condition that we would not be called to testify at the legislative investigation."

Senator W. B. Heyburn, the chairman, then read the proceedings of the legislative investigation at which Stone had testified that he actually did give the money to Kingsley. Kingsley repudiated Stone's testimony as read. In first part of the legislative proceedings it was brought out that $12,000 of the $22,500 which Stone received, was paid to James O. Davidson, then governor of Wisconsin, as a "campaign fund."

"When you agreed to help Stone cover up what he did with the money, didn't it occur to you that you were conspiring with him to commit perjury?" asked Attorney Littlefield.

"It did not occur to me then but it does now."

FARMER BATTLES WITH GREY EAGLE

Wealthy Lago Man Has Exciting Experience With Giant Bird.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 10.—Ervine Murphy, a wealthy farmer, residing near Lago, met with an interesting experience and one which few are privileged to encounter.

Early in the day, Mr. Murphy, who is one of the best known hunters in the county, went to a pond about two miles east of Urbana, to hunt ducks. He had not been at the pond very long, however, until he noticed a mammoth bird sitting in a nearby tree. This he at first took to be a buzzard, but as he approached nearer and the bird flew to a neighboring tree, he then realized that he had an eagle to deal with.

He instantly raised his shotgun, which he had with him, and fired. The first shot, however, did not prove to be effective, only breaking the left wing of the bird.

The eagle, though crippled, was not to be conquered easily and flew at Mr. Murphy, forcing him to retreat before he could fire again. The bird fortunately became entangled in a wire fence which was near, and this enabled Mr. Murphy to fire again and to hit the bird in the head killing it instantly. Mr. Murphy took his prize home and there it measured seven feet and four inches, proving to be one of the largest specimens which has ever been taken in this locality.

DIPHTHERIA SCARE OVER.

Defiance, Ohio, Oct. 10.—The public schools of this city, which were closed Thursday noon of last week as a precautionary measure to prevent the spread of diphtheria, were opened again this morning. No new cases of any kind in the public schools have been reported to the board of health, and there is every reason to believe that any further progress of the disease will be confined to the families in which children have already been afflicted.

No deaths have occurred as a result of the present outbreak, and the total number of cases in the city is less than fifteen, of which only a part of the children attended the public schools.

THE HERPICIDE GIRL IS THANKFUL

I am always grateful for real blessings, and I know of nothing that I need to be more thankful for than Newbro's Herpicide. Thousands of ladies not only in the United States, but all over the world feel the same way about it. To this wonderful scalp and hair remedy they owe their soft, long, beautiful hair.

Mary J. Terry, of Lovjoy, Ill., writes: "My hair came out until there was just a scanty cover for the scalp. I tried everything I ever heard of or read about until I finally used Herpicide. There is nothing like it. My head is now covered with new hair. I shall forever praise Herpicide."

Most hair troubles come from dandruff. Newbro's Herpicide removes the dandruff by killing the germ which causes it. It also stimulates a flow of blood which nourishes the follicles. The scalp being healthy, the hair does not come out and the new hair is allowed to grow.

There are other preparations which they say are "just as good" as Herpicide. It is not advisable to try them. Instead of doing any good they may do positive harm.

No one is ever disappointed in Newbro's Herpicide. The results are always the same, always satisfactory as is indicated by the fact that Herpicide has been sold for years and has thousands of satisfied friends. It is the only genuine, original dandruff germ destroyer. There is nothing "just as good."

One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications at good barber shops. Send in the postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. Bradley Bros., 627 Calhoun, Special Agents.

THIRTEEN HAS NO TERROR.

Montpelier Maiden Is Not of the Superstitious Kind.

Montpelier, Ind., Oct. 10.—That Miss Cecelia Chaney, of this place, has no error for the number thirteen is shown from the fact that she has chosen Friday, October 13, as the day when she will be married to Alvin C. Hart, an instructor in the Indianapolis Business university.

Miss Chaney was born on October 13, and has invited just thirteen guests to be present at her wedding. It is said that Mr. Hart has never had much to do with the number four, which so many are inclined to shrink, but thinks that no evil can come from the whim of his bride-to-be.

Following the wedding ceremony, which will take place at the home of Miss Chaney's mother, on Adams street, the young couple will take up their residence in Indianapolis.

DECATUR'S OPPORTUNITY.

Farmers of Adams County Given Chance Sugar Plant a Probability.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 10.—After several months of work by local committees, after a dozen trips of investigation through this county by the experts and by the men who will invest nearly a million dollars here, it has been announced that the Holland-St. Louis Sugar company of Michigan will locate a 750-ton beet sugar plant in or near Decatur, ready for operation next fall, provided the desired contracts for 5,000 acres of beets for 1912 and 1913 can be secured. The company is investing a fortune and it is but proper that the farmers as well as the business men of this locality promise them their support, not only for one year but for just so long a time as the raising of this crop proves profitable. Investigation shows that after a farmer has raised beets one or two years he will continue to do so and it is along this line of thought that the contracts are made.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Knauer, Miss Deau Bonevitz, Mrs. Maude Humphrey, Mrs. Catherine McNabb and Clint Hush, Marion Eley, John Simon and others witnessed the ball game at Kendallville Sunday afternoon between the Auburn and Kendallville boys. This was the "rub" game and the last for the season.

The M. E. Sunday school rally Sunday at 9:30 a. m. was largely attended, there being 120 people present and a good collection taken. The contest with Misses Ellie Henney and Otto Long as captains choosing the different classes of the school on their sides as helpers to get as many cards signed by different people resulted in Miss Long being the winner, her side having thirty-six cards signed and represented, while Miss Henney had twenty-four. Total being sixty people brought into the school that perhaps would not have come.

Miss Laura Church, of Geneva, was the guest of Miss Bessie Stewart Sunday.

Saturday morning Jess Engle, west of town, received a message from South Bend stating that his daughter, Mrs. Martha Burger, of that place, was critically ill. Mr. Engle and daughter Della started immediately for that place, but on reaching there found she had died. The body was shipped to Avilla, arriving here Saturday evening, and was taken overland by Funeral Conductor Moore to the Engle home in Green township. Mrs. Burger was 30 years of age and died of gastritis. Funeral was held at the Summit church today at 1 o'clock.

"Stabbed In the Back"

How Many Fort Wayne Readers Have Had Those Sudden Twinges.

Have you ever had a "crick" in the back? Does your back ache with a dull, heavy, draggy throb? Is it hard to straighten up after sleeping? Hard to arise from a chair or turn in bed? Is the urine dark colored? Passages irregular?

When your kidneys need attention, use a tested kidney remedy.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has cured thousands.

Convincing proof of merit in the following statement:

Arkison A. Jenkins, 1902 S. Calhoun street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "It gives me pleasure to confirm all I said regarding Doan's Kidney Pills when I publicly endorsed them in 1908. For two or three years my kidneys were disordered and I had but little control over the kidney secretions. My back ached intensely and my entire system was run down. The contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Meyer Bros. Co.'s drug store, corrected my trouble and proved of benefit in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

CIGARETTE AND FIRE PREVENTION.

While the study of fire prevention is in all minds, let not the little stinker be forgotten. A prolific source of destructive blazes is the cigarette. It is numerously smoked everywhere and for the most part by persons who have not reached the age of settled notions of carefulness. Indeed, it may be suspected that a majority of cigarette smokers have few settled notions of anything. Anyway, the cigarette is a treacherous little nuisance that destroys as much property as it does life. With its diaphanous and highly inflammable wrapper, the lighted cigarette tossed idly away, into a waste basket, rubbish heap or behind or under anything that may happen to be convenient is the potential origin of a fire. A slight draft along the floor may puff its paper into a flame and if other inflammables are about, as they are apt to be, the balance of the cigarette butt's secondary mission is easy. Let it be put in the formal "rules for the prevention of fires" that "I will not smoke cigarettes if I can help it; but if I do will conscientiously see to it that its miserable little life is strangled out of it before I put it anywhere but in my mouth." That will add something useful to the anti-fire propaganda. In about one out of every two fires whereof "the origin is a mystery" or "the cause unknown," the subjunctive clause is added that "it is supposed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette." A sure means would be to abolish the cigarette, a measure that in other directions would be of great service to the general conservation of humanity and human resources; but if that cannot be done, then teach care that the cigarette has completed its mischievous mission when the smoker has done smoking it.

THE LAW'S DELAYS.

The supreme court of the United States has just convened for the fall term and when it did so that tribunal faced the laborious task of determining some eight hundred cases, including those which were left over when its recess began and those which had accumulated since. It is said that the new cases will come up faster than the court can dispose of the old ones, so that, though the court work never so hard, it is not likely to make headway against the constantly accumulating business. Just how the court is to get relief is for it to find out, but that in the interest of justice to litigants it ought to find some means need not be argued.

The condition of the supreme court of the United States in this respect is paralleled by conditions in the superior tribunals of nearly all the states. It is notably true in Indiana, notwithstanding that an appellate court relieves the supreme court of a vast amount of labor in a certain class of cases. Everywhere is seen the law's delays and the suffering of litigants. Judicial procedure is slow, expensive and in most instances inconclusive. Few cases, wherein material interests are concerned, terminate with the judgment of trial courts. Numerous criminal cases are appealed and made the subject of prolonged contest in the higher judicial bodies. One process after another is resorted to and one expedient after another exhausted before an appellant will accept a finality.

President Taft has repeatedly urged and the American Bar association has endorsed a reform of court procedure to the end that litigation may not necessarily mean bankruptcy to litigants and that courts shall not become the instruments of injustice. No headway has yet been made. Reform ought to come and come soon.

About the only justification any outsider has been able to find for Italy's grabbing of Tripoli is that the Italian government is better than the Turkish. The powers stand aloof, deaf to Turkey's appeal for intervention, warning the porte that it must restrain its feelings and prevent excesses in reprisals taken against the Italians in Turkey and bide with what patience it may summon that time when Italy, having made fast its territorial loot, will submit without quarrel to a friendly intervention. The powers, themselves grabbing, cannot well interfere with another grabber. The raping of Tripoli will be complete, and while it will doubtless benefit that land, the morals of the affair cannot be made to look different or better.

The independent tobacco interests very evidently do not believe the "rule of reason" is going to prevent the tobacco trust from continuing to do unreasonable things in the trade. They are massed in an unanimous opposition to the reorganization plans of the trust and expect to be heard from. The government is not yet done with the tobacco trust, if the independents persist in having the innings that have long been denied them by the big corporation.

A conference that has for its object the improvement of the American Indian by giving him an opportunity equal to the white man's is in session in Columbus, Ohio. As the white man's chance always embraces an intervening necessity to perform more or less bone labor, even the most optimistic hopes for Poor Lo is likely to be somewhat harassed by doubt.

Hundreds of witnesses will be examined, millions of dollars will be spent and several months will be consumed in the dynamite trials at Los Angeles. Sympathy in due time should be transferred in bulk to the jury that must deal with the maze of testimony and sit still while it listens to it.

You can distress your soul as much as you like over the possibilities of the Giants and the Athletics, but the magnates, please observe, are taking care of the box office with tremendous assiduity and a reinforced staff of change artists and money counters.

J. Pierpont Morgan paid a barber $20 for shaving him the other day. Men "in the street" have paid Mr. Morgan many times that for a similar operation and were not satisfied with the job, either.

Fire prevention also includes the neglected chimney. Is this the appointed time when the sooty imp who, in days long gone, went about crying, "Sweep-o, sweep-o!" begins to come back?

Indiana has just celebrated the birthday of Poet Riley, but no one knows which birthday it was.

A little more of it and water would have made Wisconsin as famous as something else has.

AROUSING PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

(South Bend Times.)
The force of public opinion has been strongly illustrated in the matter of race track gambling in New York state. Governor Hughes, by direct appeal to the people, forced a reluctant legislature to pass laws prohibiting it. The present legislature of the state has been asked to repeal these laws. The bosses of both political parties are in sympathy with the gamblers, and a majority of the legislators feel the same way. For a time it seemed inevitable that the repeal would prevail; but the New York Herald, which is the organ of the sporting element, has given up the fight, saying, "a majority of the members of both houses declare that personally they would be glad to vote for the repeal, but they dare not, because of the sentiment which Governor Hughes aroused among their constituents." This incident suggests two things: First, the power of aroused public sentiment in holding legislators to their duty; and second, the folly of the voters in electing as their representatives men who have to be thus held. Why do not the people elect men that will voluntarily and gladly represent them?

SEVENTY-FOUR WOMEN HOLD OFFICE IN KANSAS.

(New York American.)
The determined effort of the woman mayor of Hunnewell, Kan., to triumph over her recalcitrant council of men shows the indomitable spirit of the women office-holders of that state. The recent political canvass credits seventy-four women with holding office. And all these were elected by men alone.
Besides the woman mayor, there are forty-five county school superintendents, five county treasurers, six district court clerks and two probate judges.
As the case now stands, women hold every office in Kansas except those of sheriff, coroner, county attorney and county commissioner.
Although there are two thousand men officials in the state, the voters seem to like the women; they attend to business and they do not waste the state's time during office hours. Kansas ought to be the ideal women's suffrage stronghold.

Men Who Helped to Make America

THE MAN WHO DISCOVERED LAKE CHAMPLAIN.

NE of the most beautiful lakes in the United States immortalizes the name of Samuel de Champlain, the famous French explorer, who was born at Brouage, in Saintonge, in 1567, and died in the New World he had helped to explore in 1635.

It was in 1603 that he made his first voyage to this country. From 1604 to 1607 he spent his time exploring the Canadian coast, and, returning for a third voyage in 1608, he founded the city of Quebec.

In 1612 he was appointed Lieutenant Governor of New France. The years that followed were devoted to explorations of the interior, attacks on the Iroquois and voyages to France.

In 1629 he was forced to surrender to an English fleet and was carried to England. After his liberation in 1632 he returned to Canada in 1633 and remained there until his death.

SAMUEL de CHAMPLAIN

"Again the canoes advanced, the river widening as they went. Great islands appeared, leagues in extent, and channels where ships might float, and broad reaches of expanding water stretched between them, and Champlain entered the lake which preserves his name to posterity. Cumberland Head was passed, and from the opening of the great channel between Grand Isle and the main he could look forth on the wilderness sea. Edged with woods, the tranquil flood spread southward beyond the sight.

"Far on the left the forest ridges of the Green Mountains were heaved against the sun, patches of snow still glistening on their tops; and on the right rose the Adirondacks, haunts in these later years of amateur sportsmen from counting rooms or college halls, nay, of adventurous hunters, with sketch-book and pencil. Then the Iroquois made them their hunting ground; and beyond, in the valleys of the Mohawk, the Onondaga and the Genesee, stretched the long line of their five cantons and palisaded towns.
"At night they were encamped again. The scene is a familiar one to many a tourist and sportsman; and, perhaps, standing at sunset on the peaceful strand, Champlain saw what a roving student of this generation has seen on those same shores, at that same hour—the glow of the vanished sun behind the western mountains, darkly piled in mist and shadow along the sky; near at hand, the dead pine, mighty in decay, stretching its ragged arms athwart the burning heaven, the crow perched on its top like an image carved in jet; and aloft the night-hawk, circling in its flight, and, with a strange whirring sound, diving through the air each moment for the insects he makes his prey."

AIRSHIP MAIL ARRIVES.

Bluffton Man Receives Postcard by the Aeroplane Route.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 10.—The first mail to arrive in Bluffton via the hydro-aeroplane route was received this morning by L. C. Davenport. It was a postcard, mailed at St. Louis by his niece, Mrs. Florence Horn, and it made the trip in the schedule time required by a letter coming by the usual way.

The card was one taken by Hugh Robinson, who, in a hydro-aeroplane made a spectacular flight from St. Louis along the Mississippi river Sunday. Five times he started from the river, and in his flight he made six landings, carrying United States mail from Missouri to Illinois. In his flight Robinson went under three bridges, going down the river, and over them going up.

The card bore the stamp of the hydro-aeroplane route, stamped over the St. Louis postmark. After being left in Illinois it completed the trip to Bluffton by rail.

NUN FALLS PREY TO CUPID.

Elopes With Patient in Bohemian Hospital After Successful Cure.

Vienna, Oct. 10.—A nun named Sister Ludmilla, belonging to the order of St. Charles Borromeo, of Vienna, has eloped in romantic circumstances with a patient of the Weemberg infirmary, Prague, Bohemia, where she had been acting as a nurse. It is customary in Austria for nuns, after taking the vow of celibacy, to be employed as hospital nurses. Sister Ludmilla was on duty in her ward when a patient was brought in for an operation. The convalescence was long and painful, but despite the monastic rule forbidding a nun to speak of herself, she spent hours in talking to each other. Almost unconsciously the couple fell in love, but such was their discretion in talking to each other that no one at the hospital suspected anything. The patient was discharged as cured, but returned with a cardboard box to remove garments belonging to him. When he came back to the hospital the sister packed his clothes for him. Toward evening the sister was found to be missing, and it appears the cardboard box contained women's clothing, which the nun used in escaping.

CURRENT WHOOPS UP MULE.

Forrest City, Ark., Oct. 10.—Friends of Superintendent Chilner, of the city water and light plant, are at a loss whether to class him as the meanest man in Arkansas or the most ingenious one.

The water department has a Missouri mule which possessed a reputation of being the laziest quadruped ever harnessed until Mr. Chilner rigged a patent starter on the wagon to be drawn by it. He put a small electric battery with a switch convenient to the driver's hand, and attached an insulated wire in the headstall of the mule, thence to the ring of the bit and then back to its tail.

Now when the gang is ready to start there is no cranking nor horsewhipping to be done. The device was resorted to after his muleship threatened to bankrupt the plant buying whips.

DOG ORDINANCE IS TO BE PRESENTED

A Measure to Denaturize Vicious Canines Will Go to Council.

PROGRAM OF TONIGHT

As the result of attacks made yesterday by dogs upon two children, both of whom were badly bitten, the city council may get an ordinance tonight requiring that all dogs be kept muzzled at all times whether they are on the streets or at the homes of their owners.

President Louis S. C. Schroeder is behind the movement and he said this morning he thought that the meeting tonight will be a fit time to take the matter up with the two examples before the members of the body. No ordinance had been prepared up to late today but it may be drafted and presented during the session.

Board Wants Money.

The board of public works will ask for an appropriation of $1,800 for the maintenance of streets during the remainder of the year and the city controller will recommend it as the money in this fund is about exhausted with more than two months more to run before the new appropriations will be available.

This board will also ask $700 for public printing which will be endorsed by the controller. In addition the board will present for ratification contracts with the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for the building of switches from the main track on Spy Run avenue to reach the bottling house and coal sheds of the Centerville Brewing company and one from the Superior street line into the new warehouse of G. E. Bursley & Co.

City Attorney Harry G. Hogan is preparing his report to the council on the decision of Judge Edward O'Rourke on the market house fees so that the ground work for a new schedule of charges will be made. The city attorney will not make any recommendations in the matter but will give a history of the court proceedings.

In addition he will set out the income that will be derived from Judge O'Rourke's figures and will also show the expense that must be incurred in conducting the public market, indicating that the court leaves a very small margin for emergencies that may arise.

May Be Two Wash Reports.

Unless the council committee on contracts and franchises gets together this afternoon there will be two reports on the Wash contract. One was prepared yesterday by Councilman Paul Kinder recommending the passage of the measure as it now stands with the agreement to elevate the tracks at Clinton street. Mr. Kinder said today: "We tried to get the Pennsylvania in on this movement and we couldn't do it and I don't see the use of holding up the Wash."

"I am going to recommend that the report pass no matter what the others do."

Chairman Bauer called his committee for this afternoon at a session held last night in which he and Mr. Sarver insisted that Clinton street be eliminated unless the Pennsylvania agrees to come in. Several members of the council expressed themselves as willing to ratify the contract as it now stands and this will probably be done at the meeting tonight.

Unless it is done there is a strong probability that the board of works will proceed without the co-operation of the council as it has that right under the law.

DEFER STEPS IN MARKET MATTER

Municipal Action Urged Before Federation of Labor.

DISCUSS BOY SCOUTS

Beyond listening to a strong advocacy of a municipal market as a means of reducing the high cost of living, the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor Monday evening took no action in the matter. It was brought to the attention of the delegates by Charles Marabren, of the Machinists' union, who cited the experiences of some other cities in eliminating the middleman and enabling consumers to secure food products more cheaply.

The Boy Scout movement was productive of a spirited discussion upon the floor of the federation, in which there was opposition to the movement similar to that which has developed in organized labor circles in some other points. It ended in the appointment of a committee to investigate thoroughly the principles of the movement and to report to the federation at its next meeting.

Reports from the recent state convention of the federation were submitted by Delegate Loney, of the Pipefitters; Delegate Marabren, of the Machinists; Delegate Workman, of the Barbers, and Mrs. L. D. Redding, for the Women's Label League. All the reports voiced a sentiment for "clean politics" in future conventions and declared that many unpleasant clashes of the last session could have been avoided by the elimination of "wire-pulling."

"The resolution by Delegate Edward Miller, of the Typographical union, for a raise in the per capita assessment was tabled indefinitely.

H. J. Korte was named as delegate of the Carpenters to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of C. E. Krieger, and Mr. Korte also goes upon the arbitration committee in Mr. Krieger's former position.

DEGENERATES OF THE FEMALE SORT

Letters and Money from Fair Unknowns Deluge Doctor Webster.

HE DOES NOT REPLY

Oregon, Ill., Oct. 10.—Dr. Harry E. Webster, under indictment for the murder of his third wife, Bessie Kent Webster, has received a score of letters from women since his imprisonment here. All the letters express either sympathy or admiration for the physician and several contained small sums of money. One anonymous letter in feminine handwriting contained a twenty-dollar bill.

Dr. Webster declares he has not answered any of the letters. Dr. Webster smiled today when he read a published interview with Mabel Seasmith, the trained nurse in Chicago, who is quoted as saying: "I love Dr. Webster with a good, good affection and would have worked my fingers to the bone for him."

Webster has repudiated his confession and when arraigned in court yesterday he heard a plea of not guilty entered for him by the state, he having refused to plead. He seemed to be in good spirits and smiled during the formal proceedings.

Columbus, Ohio, Starts Movement to Solve Problem of Idle Men.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 10.—A church employment bureau was established here last night and those who watched the opening believe it will fill an important place in disposing of the question of the unemployed in this city. It was announced that it had been made by the Wesley M. E. church, Broad and Fourth streets, that positions would be found for men who applied. At the first session work was obtained for fifteen men, most of them skilled, some of them formerly prosperous but unfortunate. One was a graduate of Heidelberg university, for whom the wheel of fortune turned the wrong way.

TEMPLE THEATER

Perhaps the heartiest laughter at the Temple vaudeville this week is caused by the comedy of the Van Brothers who have a combination of music and nonsense not often excelled. It is a quiet work, too, but it becomes comical before the act is finished. Their music won repeated applause as well. Another act that brings the laughter is Lillian Mortimer's act. Miss Mortimer has a "creation" called "Po' Whitt Trash Thriller" which is a burlesque of a real thriller from melodrama. Miss Mortimer is Jinny and her work at the wash tub would make a laundress of forty years' experience green with envy because of the display of energy. The performance is staged with much nicety of detail and Miss Mortimer's company fit the other parts well. It is a good vehicle for Miss Mortimer's comedy talents.

The act of the Livingstons is a great one. These three comedy tumblers have a new make-up that is enough to cure any case of liver complaint anyone in the audience may be suffering from and their antics on the bars with variations on the floor together with numerous changes of costume before the audience nearly make one's eyes ache trying to watch them. It is a classy act.

And while these are great numbers they don't include all the excellence of the Temple bill this week. Finn and Ford, black face men, sing and dance so well that they proved prime favorites with the audiences. Their number is very good. The Erna troupe of novelty and burlesque dancers do several new stunts in the way of athletic dancing that made a hit. Their act is brilliantly costumed and there is much of the costume, too. Pauline Barry proved to be a pretty and attractive singing comedienne. Juggling Delisle has a number of novelties in his way that please. Dickey's orchestra has its usual excellent part in the entertainment and the Temple motion pictures close the good bill.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

MONTGOMERY AND STONE

Appear Here in "The Old Town" Friday Night at the Majestic

The first engagement here of Montgomery and Stone in "The Old Town" at the Majestic theater, will instill interest even though the season has just begun, as the play is of such amusing features.

The trials and mishaps of Fred Stone as Henry Clay Baxter, a civilized country boy, and David Montgomery as his manager carry the audience along at a rapid rate through the two acts in which they manage to slide into all kinds of trouble, which only their wits save them from when they find themselves at close quarters, affecting all manner of disguises and finally triumph in the end and secure the girls of their choice.

The company remains about the same when seen on Broadway with the exception of Clara Palmer, who will be seen as Ernestine Bilwether, an ambitious wife. Flossie Hope remains as the Swedish maid and Charles Doss as the Honorable Bide Bilwether. Others in the cast are Helen Falconer, Edna Bates, W. J. McCarthy and Howard Russell. "The Old Town" pony ballet which won much success is still a feature. The production is one of Charles Dillingham's best and is staged with that infinite taste which characterizes all his endeavors.

The engagement is for one night, Friday, Oct. 13th.

Derbies and soft hats in all the prevailing shapes and colors, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00.

In honor of the approaching birth anniversary Master Clarence has been invited to dinner parties on Saturday at the home of Mrs. A. Z. Polhamus and on Sunday by Mrs. E. E. Morgan. A Country Party.
One of the season's country parties was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klaehn six miles west of the city, last Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Klaehn live on the Illinois road and they invited neighbors and other friends to assist in celebrating the natal anniversary of their daughter, Elma. Members of the Twilight and S. O. P. H. clubs were among the guests. A merry time was spent in dancing and card playing. At a late hour Mr. Klaehn ushered the company to the diningroom where Mrs. Klaehn had an chopped raisins and one pint of flour sifted and mixed with one scant teaspoonful of baking powder. Now add as much more flour as may be necessary to make just firm enough to roll out quite thin. Cut in rounds and bake on greased pans in a moderate oven.

Sweet Omelet With Jam.
A sweet omelet is a delightful dessert, its only drawback being that it must not stand, but go at once to the table. For the filling crumble half a dozen stale macaroons, add to them one heaping tablespoonful of thick whipped cream and three tablespoonfuls of strawberry or other kind of jam. Beat six eggs, without separating, adding one tablespoonful of warm water and one teaspoonful of sifted powdered sugar. Into a very hot pan drop one scant teaspoonful of butter and tilt until the bottom is evenly greased. Pour in the eggs and shake and turn with a spatula. When the omelet is set and ready to fold, pour the jam mixture in the center, fold over and turn out on a hot dish. Dredge with a little powdered sugar and brown quickly by holding close to it a clean red hot shovel or scoop in parallel or crossed lines with a red hot poker. Send to the table instantly, and over each service put a spoonful of sweetened whipped cream.

SOMETHING NEW IN BLOUSES.

FROM GIMBEL BROS. PHOTOS BY JOEL FISHER

EVERY shirtwaist which is really new now has its little extension below the belt—usually in the form of a dainty side-plaited tail, like the one pictured. These pleated tails do not increase the apparent girth of the figure, as might be imagined, but give a long-waisted look that is very becoming. The pretty lace coat illustrated is not intended as an out-of-door wrap, but is worn over a lingerie blouse, something in the way the chiffon jumper was worn last season. The coat pictured is made of crepe and is in a manner absolutely superior to anything ever attempted before in Fort Wayne.

FOR ADVANCEMENT OF MUSIC IN FORT WAYNE.

Since its foundation fifteen years ago the European School of Music has had for its primary cause of existence the development of musical art in the city of Fort Wayne.

It was the cherished ambition of Mrs. Anna S. Ruhland and others to make the school in a musical way an asset of which the town could be proud and from which it could derive all the musical advantages that could be had in the larger cities.

To that end and over numerous handicaps many energies were spent by Mrs. Ruhland and associates, which gradually gained for the school general appreciation and for herself much esteem and respect.

From the time Mr. George Bailhe took control it has been his constant aim to further in every way possible the gradual development of the institution and enlarge broadly the musical knowledge of the town.

To that end the Bailhe trio was founded, which, in its very first season, succeeded in acquainting music-lovers with a new field of interest, which was fully appreciated both here and throughout the state. During the year past Mr. Bailhe noticed the very little development of the violin and cello playing in the city, a lapse remarkable considering the population of Fort Wayne. The conclusion was reached that those instruments were not more played because no great violinists or cellists had taken residence here.

The difficulty existing was to induce any noted artists to come here on the very little field offered. It so happened that the management of the Anthony hotel manifested the most commendable desire to inaugurate a series of daily musical programs to be rendered by artists and in a manner absolutely superior to anything ever attempted before in Fort Wayne.

The opportunity thus presented itself to collaborate in the necessity and to that end (Gaston Bailhe, violinist, and Sigurd Fredericksen, cellist, were engaged as instructors by the European School of Music. Further, the Anthony hotel, in placing its music in charge of two such artists, assisted at the piano by Miss Helen Spindler, whose youthful fame is already well known, will offer artistic programs that will be unequalled by any hotel in the state.

It is a well known fact in New York and Chicago that orchestras made up of the finest musicians in the country, such as Franko, concertmaster of the Metropolitan opera house; Victor Sorlin, solo cellist of the New York Symphony orchestra; Svedorsky, concertmaster of the late Manhattan opera house, do an enormous amount of musical good in properly presenting programs ranging from the latest modern operas to the lighter forms of musical novelties.

In such a spirit the Anthony hotel will consider its music seriously. The musical appeal in more simple form of such orchestras, reaches and makes music-lovers of thousands of people who could not be appealed to through the medium of musicals, concerts and grand operas. They excite ambitions and interests in forms of music which can be later fortified and further developed by teachers in schools.

The management of the Anthony hotel should be given full credit for considering that, besides entertaining its guests in a delightful manner, it should through the medium of good music, contribute to the musical welfare of Fort Wayne in a notable degree.

The Bailhe trio will be as previous, a strictly concert organization, devoted to the presentation of the highest and most serious forms of chamber music art and available as last season for concerts throughout the state. Besides the founder, George Bailhe, pianist, the other two members of the trio will be Gaston Bailhe, violinist, and Sigurd Fredericksen, cellist. The fact of the three artists residing in Fort Wayne will facilitate the growth of the trio and make for superior ensemble and renditions.

The European school's advantages in like manner will be multiplied and its position strengthened as an educational force in Fort Wayne.

Fort Wayne's love of music is undeniable. It manifests itself in the existence of several musical clubs and societies. In the many great artists who are welcomed to the city and in the appreciation that is accorded several really valuable musicians who reside here.

Still there is a great deal of undeveloped talent and many energies that are misdirected, many efforts wasted.

In all, quite a field of musical values that might be better cared for and completely developed.

The gradual improvement of the above conditions is entirely in the hands of the few capable artists in the town.

They can best succeed by a fraternal spirit of collective enthusiasm, by greater activities as musicians and more passiveness as professionals. The town will thus better respond to the concentrated good will of its musicians.

It is entirely in the above spirit that the European School of Music wishes to open its season of 1911-1912.

THE ETIQUETTE OF MOURNING.

Personal feeling and expediency are a far larger determining force in the wearing of mourning in these enlightened days than formerly. It is only in a comparatively few cases that the widow's cap is worn now, whereas fifty years ago even the girl-widow wore it as a matter of course. The fine white lawn collar and cuffs, that are so becoming are so fragile, also, that they require to be changed repeatedly, and thus it comes to pass that they are not invariably added to the widow's costume in these utilitarian days. But to be in accordance with strict etiquette, they should be worn for one year and a day after the bereavement, upon the dress deeply banded with crepe, and with or without the cap. After that time they may be dropped if liked, but it should be remembered that many widows continue to wear them for their second year's mourning.

To Unclog the Pores Remove Stiffing Skin

"Clogged pores are the cause of many complexion difficulties," according to Dr. Herman Ward. "This condition makes the skin coarse in texture. It interferes with elimination of waste matter, producing a muddy or blotchy complexion, eruptions and other defects."

"To open and cleanse the closed pores there is nothing more effective than ordinary melleolized wax, used as you would cold cream, but not rubbed in. It should be applied at night and washed off in the morning. Melleolized wax, to be had at any drug store, will also remove the effects of the condition referred to. That is, it removes the undesirable complexion itself, with its disfiguring marks. Possessing a peculiar absorbent power, it takes off the soiled skin in minute particles, but so gradually there is no irritation or inconvenience. It is recommended in preference to cosmetics, as the new complexion it reveals is a perfectly natural one."

Many New Ways of Wearing the Popular Sash

If a sash is desired as the feature of a gown, the girl wearer has an endless choice as to variety and style. Here are only a few of the sash notions that are worn:

Have you a piece of old brocade? Bind it with satin ribbon at each side; fold it round the waist, let it fall in two ends of slightly unequal length half way down the skirt, and ornamented by a bow of the brocade only, placed lengthwise, across the center of the back. Or, contrariwise, choose a plain material, and bind it with flowered or striped ribbon; shape the girdle Swiss fashion, in front, and narrow toward the back, giving it there a rosette formed of petals of the ribbon. Two ends fall from this, one being above and considerably shorter than the other.

Ribbon may be draped round the waist and finished at each end by a buckle, long ends of the ribbon falling from each buckle. Or the place of the buckles may be taken by rosettes in the case of a short belt of satin or crepe de chine, the two falling ends being gathered into tassels or beaded glands. Crepe de chine is used also over a Swiss corselet of embroidery, the crepe being loosely gathered round and tied.

Curious bows and finishes are affected, the butterfly and the windmill being favorites, as well as the rosette. Sometimes a fan-like effect is produced, loops of ribbon being arranged for an evening frock round a little cluster of button roses, from which fall, widening toward the edge, a single streamer of satin with a deep flowered end. Another such has its single end of striped satin, the waist bow being composed of two fan fluted ends with a buckle in the center.

Quite a number of sashes have contrasting edges, while others again are finished by fringes and tassels.

WHEN THERE IS BUT ONE WAITRESS

At a dinner where there is but one waitress it is altogether permissible to place the first course of oysters, clams or fruit on the table before dinner is announced, and for the guests to find it there when they come into the dining room. In this case the napkin, with its bread and card, may be laid beside the plate. When the first course has been eaten, the plates are removed and those for the next course put in their place. No hurry is to be practiced, but there must be no delay.

Except at a family dinner, or one that is very intimate and has but one or two familiar guests, the dishes are served from the side. The carving is done in the kitchen and the dish passed by the waitress, always on the left side. Sometimes the food is served on the plate outside, then placed before guests; but this is done only with soup, fish, entrees, salad and perhaps the sweet.

Unless there is special entertainment supplied after the dinner, the guests should not linger late. An hour is long enough, unless the dinner has been very short or very early. If it has begun at the fashionable hour of 7:30 or 8, the guests will hardly rise from the table before 9 or half past, and an additional stay of an hour prolongs the party sufficiently.—Woman's Home Companion.

HELENA LEWYN, PIANIST,

Will Play in Elks' Hall on Friday Evening for Morning Musical.

Helena Lewyn, who will give a recital under the auspices of the Morning Musical society on Friday evening at 8:15 in the Elks hall, inherits her marked musical talents from her maternal grandfather, who was a noted musician in Germany. At the early age of four years she showed a decided taste for music. Her serious musical education began at ten, under the best teachers to be had in her home city, and at the age of thirteen she attracted enormous attention at her first public appearance. At fourteen she played before Walter Damrosch, who was so impressed with her talent that he urged her parents to give her every opportunity. Miss Lewyn was then placed under the direction of Madame Fannie Bloomsfeld-Zeissler. She studied with Madame Zeissler for two years and then went abroad, where she continued her studies for four years more, her instructors being Godowski, Conrad Ansoorge and Stillman Kelly. Miss Lewyn was born in Houston, Texas, and she is but twenty years old.

CONCERNING BRIDAL GIFTS.

Though persons in mourning may not attend either the religious ceremony or the reception following a marriage, they send wedding gifts the same as if they expected to be present.

Should the wedding invitation be sent to a friend who is traveling or who lives at a distance, the recipient sends a bridal gift and is careful to forward it so that it will reach the bride before the ceremony, if possible.

In case the recipient does not know the bride or her family, but has received either social or substantial favors from the groom, the present is sent to the bride the same as if she were an acquaintance.

An invitation extended to those who know the bride and groom only either, and are in no way obligated to attend, does not demand a gift. While it is considered good form to respond with a present, it is quite as proper to send to the bride on her wedding day a box, basket or bouquet of flowers with a card of congratulations.

Easier to Remove Than Conceal Wrinkles

(National Hygienic Review.)

"When you try to conceal your wrinkles with paste made from beans, you deceive yourself, not me. Let a defect, which is possibly but small, appear undisguised. A fault concealed is presumed to be great."

This little epigram of Martial's suggests the present day tendency to avoid the use of cosmetics which can only conceal or hide facial defects, and to adopt instead rational means of removing the same. For the removal of wrinkles, saggy cheeks and baggy chins, the saxolite prescription, which goes to the foundation of these troubles, seems to have come into general use since its virtues became known but a short time ago. One ounce of saxolite, procurable at any drug store, is dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Used as a wash-lotion this lightens the skin, immediately, effectually smoothing out wrinkles and "drawing in" hanging skin or folds.

What the Organization Is.

The After School Club is an organization of able educators and experts in child training for counsel with mothers and teachers and wise comradeship for children and youth. The purpose of this society or club is that of crystallizing the entire child's welfare movement into an organization for studying child life in all its phases, and giving the benefit of this study to thousands of parents, teachers and individual boys and girls throughout the United States. It is a response to the demand which the childhood of the age is making on the women of the age, the aim being to give children the best possible opportunities for mental, moral and spiritual growth.

The After School Club offers guidance to parents as they undertake to carry out plans for the moral and intellectual development of their children. It offers guidance to children and youth in study, reading and play.

The After School Club Platform.

The After School Club platform affords an interesting and detailed insight of what the movement is designed to accomplish. It is appended in complete text:

The keynote to social progress lies in the development of the child and in our day as in no other the world has yet seen, we need to give heed to the nature and spirit of youth.

1. The mother's business—that of making men and women—is the most important of all pursuits, and the one calling for which the greatest training is needed.

2. Our young people who are growing up will take their places in society largely as their parents give them opportunity.

3. The home is the primary sphere of education and character building. The school can do much in the development of the child, but it can never usurp the function of the home for it is there that the strongest emotional factors come into force. The teacher is or should be only the parent's helper.

4. The education of the child is a continuous process from the day of birth, and fortunately haphazard theories are giving way to scientific methods. The day has passed when the maternal instinct is considered sufficient for bringing up babies and training children. Recognition of the value of the science of child study is spreading rapidly.

5. The child is the most precious of all materials, and mistakes arising from ignorance of the nature of the child may be fraught with incalculable and never-ending evils. Any wrong treatment in the early years of life leaves indelible traces, and the unskilled parent is prone to leave, as it were, ugly finger marks on the soft and impressionable temperament of the child. For this reason child study should have been one of the first subjects instead of the last to be seriously investigated.

6. The boy or girl should have change from the strain or tedium of school work through delightful recreation: the way to keep out evil is to fill the mind and time with wholesome thoughts and occupations.

7. One of the most potent factors in character building is to give even small children a sense of dignity and manhood, which can only come from true comradeship with a grown person of lofty ideals who instinctively reaches to the child's own plane of thought and interests.

8. While the significance of the home in the formation of character has never been questioned, the important task of organizing the forces of home training and compiling the most valuable results of experience and investigation in this field has only recently been undertaken.

9. To provide the best possible home influences and help is a responsibility no parent can afford to disregard, for the foundation of a life is laid in the first years of training.

VIEW OF TRIPOLI, BOMBARDED BY ITALIAN WAR SHIPS—DIRIGIBLE BALLOONS ARE SENT TO SCENE OF ACTION

AN ITALIAN DIRIGIBLE.

Reports have been received at several European cities that the bombardment of Tripoli had actually been begun. The only official despatch on the subject, one from the commander of the blockading squadron, said that he had granted a delay on the request of the Governor.

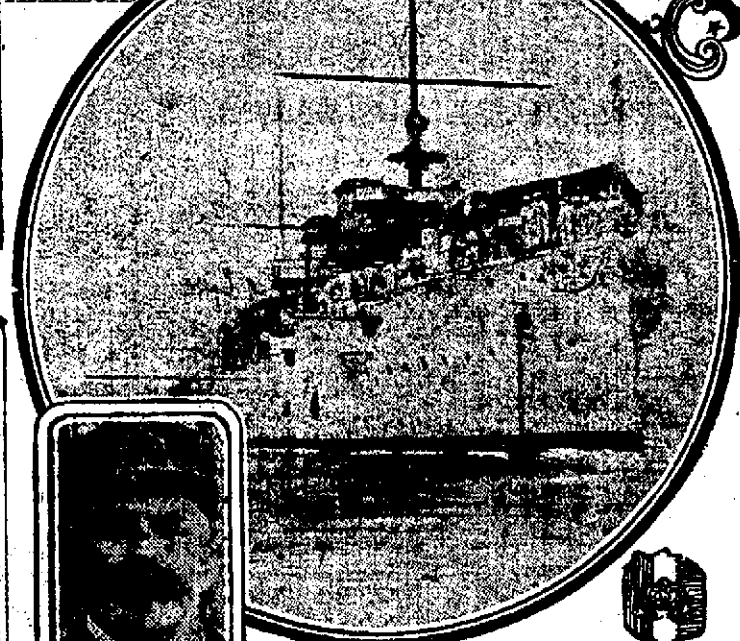

Great precautions are being taken by the Italian government lest the Turkish fleet hamper the passage of the transports taking the expedition to Tripoli. The commander of the Italian squadron off Preveza threatened to bombard that port unless three damaged Turkish war ships were given up.

The new Grand Vizier is meeting difficulties in his attempts to form a Cabinet, and for this reason Constantinople fears the war will be prolonged.

A captured Turkish transport was brought into the harbor of Taranto. Little hope of successful mediation to bring hostilities to an end was held out in the reply to Turkey's appeal.

Meanwhile the pourparlers of the Powers continue without intermission. It is said that Russia is now supporting Germany in her efforts to bring about peace.

BOWLERS ARE IN FORM FOR START BENDERS PAY IN AN INSTALLMENT

Big Scores Mark Opening Events in the Pin Organizations. Assure the League Officials They Are in Earnest About Deal.

OFF WITH A RUSH ANNIS IS PLEASED

Taking into account the fact that Fort Wayne bowlers have had little practice for the opening games in their respective leagues, the showing last night indicates that it will not take them long to get into form, as there were a number of double century scores injected into the alley battles and some good things are promised before the close of the year.

At the Metropolitan the Wolf & Desauer team got away with a low score in the opening game, while the Germania players were rolling in fair form, but the Germania store crowd came strong in the two last laps and won the series, tabling a total of 925 in the second game, which was the best mark in any of the leagues.

Will Doehrmann rolled 213 in his first game, making the best single score of the series and this gave him the best average. After a bad start (George Harkonider landed two doubles in the second and third game and took the average honor with 189 2-3. Grossard got a double in his second game.

At the Elks' Alleys. Three members of the Teeth team showed up for the games at the Elks' alleys and the Heads had no trouble winning three in a row. There were no doubles in the series, but Rachel went out after one in his second game and barely missed it by one pin.

He took the average with 188 and nobody gave him a chase, as Cavalier, the next high man, was hardly in halting distance.

At the Brunswick Alleys. Jack Aubrey, rolling with the C. Coal company team, rolled 223 in his closing game in league No. 1 at the Brunswick alleys for the best score of the league, beating George Jackson by five pins. The latter, however, got good scores in his first and second games and nearly reached a double-century average.

Knipple led off with 202 and was second high man in the Lehman Clothing club. The other bowlers were way below form and the coal crowd had easy sailing in the series, closing with an average of 85. Heine was second high average man, heading out John Beckes by a couple of pins.

The Edmunds Electric rolled the best series in any of the leagues and closed with an average of 859 2-3. Quinn made this possible by his bowling, which netted him 230 in the second game. This was the high mark of all the bowlers. Wefel and Roubush also made good marks.

BASEBALL WIZARD WHO PILOTE THE GIANTS TO VICTORY.

JOHN J. MCGRAW

To John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, must be given the major portion of the credit for leading that team to victory in this year's struggle for the National League pennant.

CONDENSED NEWS FROM FIELD OF SPORT

According to Secretary Robert McRoy, each of the players who will take part in the world series will receive at least $5,000 for his "bit."

"Scoops" Carey and Orth Collins, veterans who played in the Cotton States league this season, will be policemen in Memphis during the winter.

Clare Patterson battled 342 in the Central association in fifty games. Zeke Feltus played in a dozen games and hit .343.

Orville Overall and Tub Hackett are setting up a claim to being the heaviest batter in the game. They are in the pen for the Stockton, Cal., independent club. Overall weighs 230 and Hackett 225.

Charlie Rabbetts has spent $50,000 in gathering new material for the Dodgers for next year. He says he is going to have another championship for Brooklyn before he quits.

Deacon Phillippe, the veteran pitcher of the Pirates, is now spoken of as the next manager of the Reds. "To mention any one as the next manager of the Cincinnati has become a joke, however, and is not a compliment to any player."

The national commission count will set at rest the opinion of the capacity of the new Polo grounds. Many parks have had the seating capacity reduced by the figures given out by the national commission.

Paul Chase says Mathewson will win three games against the Athletics, if he pitches that many, but Marquard will not figure in the victories, and the Athletics will be able to hold their title. That is figuring it out as close as any one would want to advance.

Last year some of the Detroit scribes spoke of Sam Crawford as one who had shot his bolt. This year he has been about the greatest of Sam's career, both batting and fielding, considered, his base running also showing better than ever before.

Christy Mathewson was once a star football player at Bucknell and is still a great lover of the game. He says he would rather play football than baseball and that he would have chosen the gridiron instead of the diamond as a profession had he been able to make such a choice.

Manager Fred Clarke of the Pirates, is going to hike for his Kansas home as soon as the games with the Cubs are over next Monday. He is going to do a little electricianing there for some of his political friends, and after the election he is going to visit his brother Joshi, in the wilds of Minnesota, and hunt deer and other big game for several weeks.

The Cubs are now ex-champions of the National League, but still champions of Chicago. It remains to be seen whether that honor will remain with them or not.

Connie Mack says he has no fear of his pitching staff for the big series. He will go into the fray with Bender, Coombs, Plank and Morgan all in good condition, with Krause to fall back on in case of necessity.

AMERICAN LEAGUE UMPIRES FOR WORLD'S SERIES.

"Tom" CONNOLLY "Bill" DINEEN

Next to the players themselves in the coming contests for the world's championship, the umpires of the two leagues are the all important factors. Their every move and gesture will be watched with the keenest interest by a million or more of "fans."

Selected by the American League to umpire the series are "Tom" Connolly and "Bill" Dineen, who, naturally, know the game from A to Z.

MATHEWSON OUT TO PREPARE ARM

Trying to Keep His Salary Wing Right for the Big Battles.

HURLERS WORKING

New York, Oct. 10.—Christy Mathewson donned his baseball togs, and calling on Catcher Hartley, stroled out on the polo grounds this morning to take up his daily pitching practice. The big twirler agrees with Managers McGraw and Mack that the world's series between the New York Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans is a problem of pitcher and for this reason the New York skidmen are keeping in the best possible condition. Every one taken in is to go to the field, it is their mainstay and upon him depends largely the result of the series, with the hope that Marquard, the Sox's sensational left-hander in the National league, will come through with a victory or two to clinch the series for the home team.

"I know just what the team and the home crowds expect of me," said Mathewson, "but my work is necessarily defensive and it is up to my teammates to make the runs."

"My condition, well, I feel first rate and am on edge for the series, but you must know that in this game that 'breaks' or 'luck' must play a big part."

Marquard thinks he is ready and will have the old speed and jump to his ball that made him invincible while his team was making his successful dash for the pennant in August and September. Without speed Marquard admits he has no terrors for even a minor league team.

"But I have the speed and the curve will jump and hook over the plate all right," said Marquard today.

All the Giant hurlers were out today putting in a little practice just to keep their curves working and perfect their control.

ASKS SECOND FUND ADVANCE. Finance Board Requests Treasurers to Pay by November 1.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 10.—An advance payment of $5 per cent of all funds owing the state from county treasurers in the month of November is being called for by the state board of finance. The money must be in the hands of the state treasurer by November 1. This marks the second time since the June settlements were made with county treasurers. A former call realized approximately $103,000 for the state's treasury, and that amount was needed in part to tide the state over the end of the fiscal year, September 30. The call left the county treasurers with scarcely any of the state's money on hand, and it was believed that the state board of finance would call for 100 per cent of the remainder. It is known that heroic efforts must be made to tide the treasury through the October salary list payments.

VARNELL'S DRAFT IS HOLDING OWN

Farrell Bulletin Shows the Fort Wayne Team Still Has Shaughnessy.

CHANCES ARE GOOD

According to the latest bulletin issued by Secretary John H. Farrell, of the national association, Claude Varnell's draft for Frank J. Shaughnessy is holding its own and unless there is a hitch some place he will probably be on the Fort Wayne team of next season.

In the bulletin it is evident that, although the secretary is a Celt himself, he has some clerks of Teutonic extraction in his office, as the name is printed "Shaughnessy," which gives it a sort of a Dutch-Irish twang that is refreshing.

The task of going through the drafts made by the class B teams is a big one and for that reason it will be some time before the ownership of the man sought for Fort Wayne is settled, but so far Claude Varnell is holding the best hand and looks good to win coin with the Fort Wayne team of next season.

Ed Onslow, a brother to Jack, and who played his first season in professional baseball last summer, has been turned back by the St. Louis Nationals to Lansing, Mich., for more seasoning.

Rivington Bissell, who has such a dismal future last spring, has been sold to Indianapolis again and will try out next year with Jimmy Burke. Sterner has been sent to Springfield and St. Louis, but the bulletin fails to say which Springfield.

LIVE WIRES ON SPORTS

The seat sale for the Cub-White Sox series will open tomorrow with prices ranging from $1.50 to 25 cents.

Rough estimates of the receipts at the Polo grounds during the world's series are as follows: Four hundred boxes at $2 each, $800; 16,000 lower grandstand seats at $2 each, $32,000; 10,000 upper grandstand seats at $3 each, $30,000; 15,000 open stand seats at $1 each, $15,000; Gross receipts, $85,000.

Charlie Dooin will manage Philadelphia against next season. His contract as manager expired, although his playing agreement had two more years to run.

Phil Geler, who was with South Bend and Grand Rapids this season, has applied for the position of manager of the Keokuk, Iowa, team.

McKee McCarthy showed well at spot and for Pittsburgh with a run and a hit. Carey got two hits and so did Bill McKee, who is playing again at first base.

Thumpies held St. Louis to seven hits and two runs.

Doyle, of the Giants, twisted his ankle in the game with Strak was called into the game as a pinch hitter and delivered. George Mullin held the Athletics to seven hits and one run. All-Star George Smith pitched a victory for Bender, Plank and Coombs.

Runt Walsh pitched a few innings at Philadelphia and then went to first base for a time so that he could close the season with a record of having played every position on the diamond during the year.

OWENS KNOWS HOW TO RUN GAME

The report is that Clarence (Brick) Owens, the American association umpire, is to join the staff of the American league. If he does and umpires the ball game, he certainly will acquire a real umpire's touch when it comes to taking charge of a ball game and running it. The blazer person stands alone in that association. Being master of the matter is one of the strong points of this fellow.

Here's an illustration. Brick was umpiring an exhibition game between the White Sox and the Indianapolis team of the association. The game was being played on the Indianapolis grounds and the score was close. Harry Lord took a lead off first, dashed for second and was safe on a close play.

At any rate that was what Umpire Owens indicated when he spread his hands to give the safe sign. Up rushed the second baseman of the Indianapolis team. "He wasn't safe!" howled the second baseman.

Umpire Owens paid no attention. Every man has the right to kick when a play goes against him.

"He wasn't safe!" bawled the Indianapolis baseman. "I had him this far." The player indicated that he caught Lord a foot off the base. One kick is all right. Two kicks are all wrong, according to the philosophy of this Umpire Owens.

"Well, what are you telling me about it for?" he inquired, and his voice was as gentle as if he were discussing the weather. "Do you expect me to change my opinion?"

Whereupon the player collapsed. What else was there for him to say? Owens is blessed with a great voice—no one can hear him unless he gives the benefit of it. I don't want to grove that ball. If you could only see them they go over the corners. I would—said Owens and there was not even the trace of anger or impatience in his voice. "I have a friend who will do you a lot of good. Here," and he handed the pitcher a card. It bore the name and address of one of the best known oculists in the circuit.

PROPOSED MUTUAL INSURANCE.

Indiana Employers May Protect One Another Against Liability.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 10.—A mutual company of liability insurance, organized probably will be organized by the Manufacturers' Bureau of Indiana as a result of the advances made in the schedule made recently by a number of companies which write liability insurance. There are about 1,200 manufacturing establishments in the state which hold membership in the organization, and of that number almost 1,000 have signified their desire to join in the new undertaking. Members of the Manufacturers' Bureau who are interested in the formation of the new company say that an organization to which most of the employers' liability insurance companies are members, increased its rate 25 per cent to more than 100 per cent January 1, and that another increase of 40 per cent was made in March. Manufacturers' companies of Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois are organizing mutual companies, and other organizations of employers are forming similar companies.

Stomach Trouble Cured

Electricity has become a potent agent in the cure of chronic stomach diseases. Dr. Wells, of this city, announced that he had cured many cases that drugs had failed to help. A notable case recently cured was that of Mrs. Lew Rohm, of Auburn. Several physicians who treated Mrs. Rohm had failed to help her by medical treatment, and said that a surgical operation was the only thing left for her. Dr. Wells cured her by electric treatments given at his office. The first treatment in her case gave decided results. Another similar case is that of Mr. J. W. Griffith, of Waterloo, who had been treated by no less than fifteen physicians. They all failed to help him in the least. The first treatment given by Dr. Wells showed decided improvement and he is now rapidly getting well. He had lost about sixty pounds, but is now regaining it as fast as a man can grow fat.

MONARCH Building & Loan Association OF GARY, INDIANA

625 Washington Street Capital Stock $2,000,000

There is no place on earth where the first mortgage security is better than in Gary, Ind.; where the investor obtains through this Association from 15 to 16 per cent. yearly, dividends, payable quarterly, which borrowers can afford to pay and still own their own homes within a little over seven years for less than what otherwise would be paid for rent, a condition that prevails in no other city in this Union. Five years ago Gary had a population of 47, today it has over 30,000, and from 10 to 15 years hence it will be over 50,000. The reason for this is plain.

The United States Steel Corporation has invested over $15,000,000 in building its Steel Mills, covering the lake front in nine miles in distance, and is still expending several million dollars each month.

GARY IS THE ONLY CITY IN THE WORLD THAT WAS EVER FOUNDED WITH SUCH FINANCIAL BACKING.

Owing to the influx of new workmen required to operate these mills as built and enlarged, there is a shortage of not less than 3,000 houses to supply immediate necessities and the result is that rentals are quite 50 per cent higher than Chicago.

To meet this deficiency, its board of directors, CONSISTING PRINCIPALLY OF BANKERS AND BANK DIRECTORS, have undertaken to enlist outside capital to invest $2,500,000 annually, in the erection of new homes, secured by first mortgages on BUILDINGS ERECTED BY IT AT ACTUAL FIRST COST. Investments confined to Gary and adjacent cities of Lake County.

FULLY PREPAID STOCK WILL BE SOLD IN SUMS TO SUIT THE PURCHASER.

SMALL SAVERS OF MONEY MAY INVEST THEIR SAVINGS WEEKLY OR MONTHLY AND DRAW THE SAME PERCENTAGE OF DIVIDENDS AS LARGE INVESTORS. INTEREST IN BOTH CASES COMMENCING THE DATE OF PAYMENT.

All monies invested, together with all dividends declared thereon can be withdrawn on practically a moment's notice. Building and Loan Associations are the only class of Financial Institutions that afford first mortgage real estate security, giving this advantage.

Its loan books are open at all times for the inspection of all parties in interest. Interest and premium at 17% has been established by outstanding bids and inasmuch as its expenses are limited to substantially 1%, the investor and saver may expect to realize from 15 to 16% payable quarterly from July, 1912.

Under the new laws of Indiana, every officer or agent handling its funds is obliged to give surety bonds. Its depositaries, THEREFORE A LOSS OF FUNDS INVESTED IS NEXT TO IMPOSSIBLE.

It refers, by permission, to First National Bank and South Side Trust & Savings Bank, both of Gary, as to its integrity and responsibility.

RAIN-TREE TALES ONLY DELUSIONS

United States Consul at Peru Has Made an Investigation.

HE REPORTS RESULT

Washington, Oct. 10.—Another dream has been shattered, that of the rain tree. For years the records show that the rain tree has figured at intervals in newspaper articles, promoters' prospectuses and elsewhere as a reality. It was pictured as the most beneficent of trees, which absorbed moisture from the atmosphere and discharged it in streams from the branches to the thirsty earth. The rain tree has been described as the redeemer of all deserts. One of the latest reports has credited the rain-tree to Peru.

United States Consul General Henry Robertson, at Callao, Peru, having received numerous inquiries concerning the rain tree, recently undertook an investigation of the matter. He has reported the results to his government, and they dispense the rain tree dream. He says that no such tree exists in Peru or elsewhere, to his knowledge, and quotes eminent botanical authorities in support of his statement. One of the letters says that in certain moist sections of Peru a certain tree becomes saturated, so to speak, and occasionally discharges a small amount of moisture. But the tree could not exist in other localities, so that it would not benefit arid lands.

After the consul reported, the bureau of manufactures asked the agricultural department about the matter. Assistant Secretary Hays replied that the rain tree legend is centuries old. He says that Australia has fallen a victim to the delusion and is planting many alleged rain trees. It is no more efficacious in condensing water than any other free growing tree. An English botanist, Secretary Hays said, once offered an explanation of the legend.

According to the legend, at times swarms of gnats or locusts settle upon the trees and extract their juices, which drop upon the ground. The weather bureau investigated the rain tree legend and published an expose of it in 1905.

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 10.—The Rev. H. T. Bentley, aged 89, a retired Methodist minister and author of several religious works, and Mrs. Mary Ann Spivey, aged 58, of this city, were married here a few days ago. The ceremony was performed in the Free Methodist church, the Rev. W. A. Simpson officiating.

Bentley is reputed to be wealthy, but he has lived simply many years in this city in a little cottage. On the front steps of this place was written: "H. T. Bentley's little cottage under the big mansion," and the inscription attracted a great deal of attention. The "little cottage" has been sold and another in Crittenden street purchased for the home of the couple.

ARCADIA COURT.

Beauty Spot to Be Made of New Southside Addition.

It will undoubtedly prove of great interest that the beautiful grove lying 350 feet south of the Packard factory, between Fairfield and Hoagland avenues, will be thrown open to the public this week. Arcadia Court, the picturesque name by which this plot will be known, affords practically the last opportunity to secure an ideal wooded home site in this very desirable section of the city.

It is very gratifying to note that the grove is to be preserved in all its natural beauty as far as possible. Stately stone gateways will mark the entrances at both Fairfield and Hoagland avenues, and a delightful drive will wind its way among the beautiful forest trees. An ornamental lighting system with red granite concrete posts like those in Lincoln park, Chicago, will add much to the attractiveness of the site.

As the promoters are permitting but one residence for every fifty feet of frontage, there will never be any crowding of houses such as now mars some of the best residence districts. Of course this is in a way regrettable as the amount of ground is very limited and thus makes only a very small number of home sites possible. On the other hand, this affords an exceptional opportunity for a model little civic beauty spot and such indeed it will undoubtedly prove.

GUARDED MCKINLEY'S TOMB.

Corporal Moneypermy, Who Will Be Stationed Here, Relates Experience.

Corporal David Moneypermy, who for the past five years has been stationed at Columbus recruit barracks, drilling recruits, has arrived here to assume the duties of assistant to Sergeant Seiler, in charge of the local army recruiting station.

Corporal Moneypermy before being stationed at Columbus barracks was a member of the Twenty-seventh infantry, stationed at Fort Sheridan, Chicago. In 1905 he was one of a guard of honor composed of thirty-six picked men from the Twenty-seventh regiment, stationed for nine months at the temporary tomb of the late President McKinley at Canton, O. In speaking of this Corporal Moneypermy related an experience that befell him one night with an Indiana evangelist when he was acting as officer of the guard. It was the usual custom to close the gates of the cemetery at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, but on the night in question the sexton neglected to do so. Shortly after this hour a man came through the gates and was challenged by one of the guards. Corporal Moneypermy hearing the challenge approached the man, who was a small, unassuming looking little person. When asked his name the man said: "I am De Witt, of Indiana."

"What are you carrying under your arm?" asked Corporal Moneypermy, suspiciously, thinking of the threats of anarchists to steal the body of President McKinley.

"The Bible," answered De Witt, and with the corporal's permission knelt in front of the tomb of the late president and prayed. A minute after when told by the corporal he would have to leave, he begged for one minute more in which to receive the answer to his prayer, and when the time elapsed he arose and departed with a happy smile on his face.

Gotham Banker Sues Merchant Charging Breach in Mine Contract.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 10.—In the United States circuit court yesterday Charles E. Levy, a banker, of New York, filed suit against H. H. Hoffman, a wealthy tobacco merchant of this city for damages in the sum of $200,000. Levy alleges that Hoffman failed to carry out a contract made in 1905 to deliver to him the entire outstanding capital stock of the La Democrata mine in the district of Arisa Cananea, Sonora, Mexico, the controlling interest of which was held by Hoffman. It is alleged also that the contract provided that if Levy could obtain a purchaser for the property, he would receive any money from the sale in excess of $900,000. Levy alleges that he found a purchaser for the mine who was willing to pay $1,000,000, but that Hoffman refused to deliver the stock and repudiated the contract.

ASK MORE LIGHTS AND LATER CARS

North Side Civic Improvement Body Names Committee.

EAST SIDE TO MEET

Still more street lights for Bloomingdale, later street car service at night and earlier cars on Sunday morning are requests formulated at the meeting of the standing committee of fifty of the North Side Civic Improvement association, held Monday evening.

A number of additional lights have recently been installed in that section of the city, and Councilman Pinnington informed the committee that Mayor Grice is opposed to placing more lights in Bloomingdale until other sections of the city have received some attention in this direction. Messrs. George H. Crouse, J. C. Kienale, John T. Young, Charles Minnich and Benjamin Johnson were named as a committee to urge the matter before the board of public works. Lights are wanted at the corner of Oakland and Huffman, Spring and Barthold, Hoffman and Barthold, Archer and St. Mary's avenues, Weiss street and Jacob's road, Sherman and High, Tyler and High, Fifth and Wells and at the south end of the Wells street bridge.

In the effort to secure later street car service at night and earlier service on Sunday morning, the appointment of a committee was deferred when Councilman Pinnington informed the association that a resolution to that effect is now before the city council. The committee recommends arrangements that will give a car at midnight, at 12:30 a. m. and 1 o'clock a. m., or one car each hour after midnight.

Will Have Big Mass Meeting. The executive committee of the East Side and Maumee River Civic Improvement association held a meeting at the Commercial club rooms Monday evening and inaugurated plans for a big mass meeting to be held at the Concordia college gymnasium on Wednesday evening, Nov. 7.

Four or five speakers and a band will be provided for the program. The association is preparing to issue several thousand copies of a booklet setting forth the plans and purposes of the association in the improvement of the eastern part of the city.

GENERAL CAR INSPECTOR DEAD

Death Ends Long Term of Service for Julius Krause.

SOME PROPOSED Y. M. C. A. CHANGES

Leaders Consider Plan for Separating Railroad and City.

Local Pennsylvania officials were shocked this morning by receipt of news of the death of Julius Krause, general car inspector of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, which occurred at his home in that city yesterday. Mr. Krause's business often brought him to Fort Wayne and he was well known to the Pennsylvania officials here and particularly with those connected with the motive power department. He was upwards of 65 years old and had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania upwards of forty years.

If the sentiments expressed at the meeting of a few of the Y. M. C. A. leaders at the association rooms last night becomes an actuality, Fort Wayne will have two Y. M. C. The proposition to divorce the railroad and the city departments and establish separate quarters for each was one of the most important matters up for discussion. The sentiment was unanimously in favor of the separation. Superintendent W. M. Wardrop, who is a member of the special committee chosen some time ago to canvass the field, spoke in behalf of the Pennsylvania, the R. & I. and the Wabash, advocating the sale of the present building on Calhoun and Holman streets and the purchase of a site in less valuable territory—on Baker street, for instance—upon which to erect a building that will accommodate the employees of the lines named. Secretary W. S. Whitbeck, also a member of the committee, spoke in behalf of the employees of the Nickel Plate, the Lake Shore, the Lake Erie and Western and the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, stating that they favored association rooms in the northern part of the city exclusively for the use of the railway men located there. A. B. Minear, international secretary, and State Secretary E. E. Stacy, who were present at the meeting, also spoke in favor of separating the city and the Railroad Y. M. C. A., but no definite action looking towards the acquisition of grounds and starting a building fund was taken. George H. Van Arman was elected a member of the central board in the city department and others of the board were re-elected as follows: James M. McKay, S. F. Bowser, R. H. Maik, M. S. Willson, W. M. SCOW SWAMPED—CARGO LOST.

Two Fort Wayne Men in Hard Luck at Lake James.

Engineer H. Wash Frase and Timber Inspector Edward J. McCruden, of the Nickel Plate, have been at Lake James for a week making improvements to their cottage and their hard luck came when they endeavored to transport some lumber from Paltztown to their cottage, some distance up the lake. Mr. McCruden remained at the cottage, while Mr. Frase did the transporting act. He left Paltztown in his launch, towing a scow, on which was loaded several hundred feet of lumber. The lake was rough and Mr. Frase was busy keeping the bow of the launch pointed at the cottage. When he got within hailing distance Mr. McCruden shouted, "Where's your lumber?" Looking back, Captain Frase was surprised to see that the scow had filled with water and sunk sufficiently to allow the lumber to float away, not a piece remaining on the boat. He and Mr. McCruden spent the following two days in recovering the lumber, which was scattered in all directions, some of it being found two miles from the cottage. Messrs. McCruden and Frase will return home this week.

NEW FREIGHT STATION.

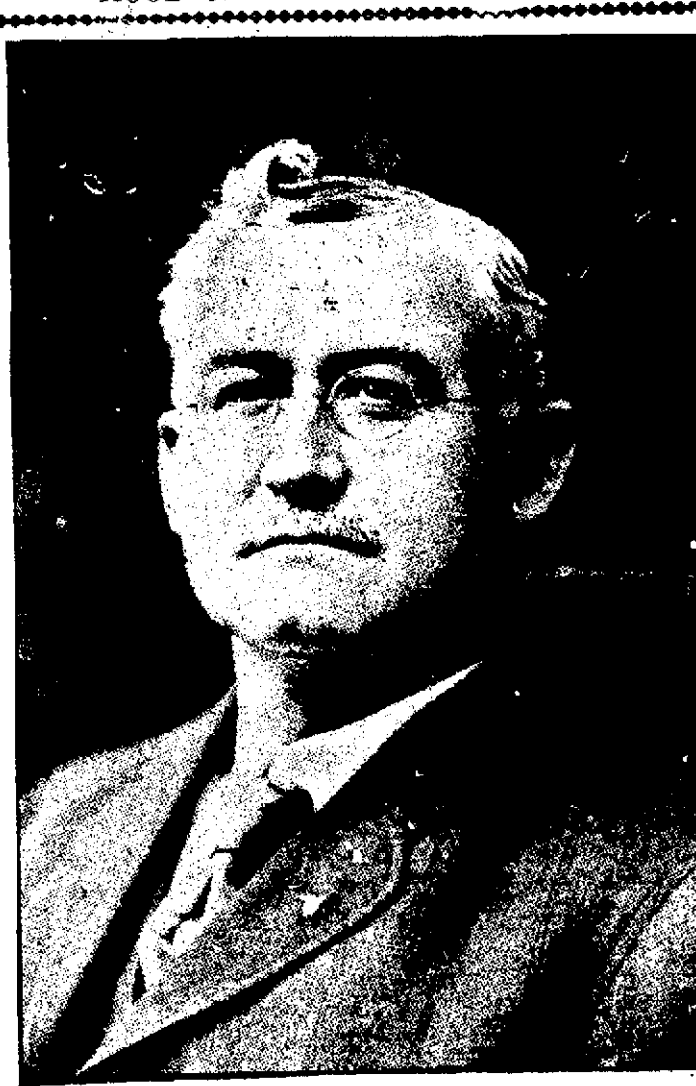

Pennsylvania Established One on West Main Street.

The Pennsylvania and the Grand Rapids and Indiana roads have jointly established a sub-freight station and service tracks on West Main street at the crossing of the R. & I. road. This station is equipped to take care of either car loads or part of car loads of freight originating in the industrial district of the northwestern part of the city or freight that is consigned to the factories out there. Among the concerns served by this station are the Knitting Mills, the Eckard Packing company, the Horton Manufacturing company, the Indiana Road Machine company, the Good Roads Machine company, the Standard Oil company, the Indian Oil company and others. George V. Heidenreich has charge of the plant and an office equipped with desks and telephone has been provided for him.

DIRECTORS TO MEET.

The quarterly meeting of the directors of the Fort Wayne Rolling Mills company will be held Tuesday, October 17, at the office of the plant out in the industrial addition. The bottom has fallen out of the iron trade and for the past six months there was little doing at the mills. It is said that prices for mill products are lower now than at any previous time in the past five years. As a result, the mills are in operation only about half the time and are turning out about one-half the capacity product of the plant. There is little of encouragement in the outlook for the near future.

VALUABLE TRAIN AND CARGO.

Last Friday night a train of fifty-three cars loaded with automobiles, each car carrying four autos, passed through the city over the Wabash road en route from Detroit to Kansas City. The train was a double header and an accountant estimates their value and that of the cars at $83,000, which added to the value of the automobiles makes a total value of train and cargo approximately $348,000. This was one of the largest and most valuable shipments of automobiles ever passing over that line of railway.

MINING BUSINESS GOOD.

E. J. O'Connell, who has returned from a western trip in the interest of the Diester Concentrator company, says that mining business in the territory covered by himself in his sales is good and the demand for the concentrators is correspondingly heavy. Mr. O'Connell's territory includes Colorado, Nevada, Utah and California.

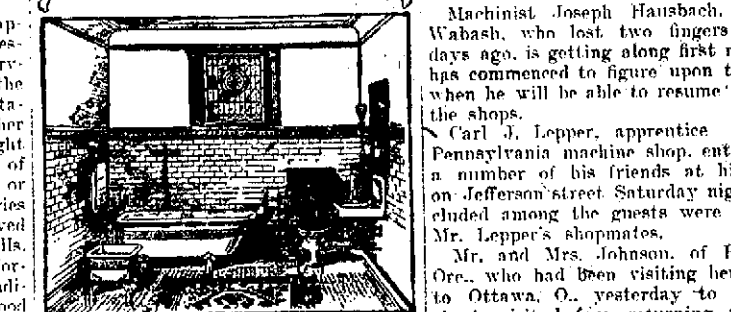

Sage Tea Will Darken the Hair

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agents, Meyer Bros. Co., 602 Calhoun St., 902 Calhoun St., 1424 Calhoun St., 2008 Broadway.

FINDS AN OAK LOG MINE.

A Russian Will Dig Out This Timber Instead of Letting it Carbonize.

(New York Sun.)
An oak log mine is the curiosity which a South Russian magnate, according to the Revue Forestiere de France, found on his property recently. It was during dredging operations in the bed of a small stream that massive oak logs embedded in the soil were brought to light.

A closer survey of the ground resulted in the discovery that a great forest of oaks lay buried there at a small depth, but extending over some seventy-five square miles. Trunks of 130 to 160 feet in length and about a yard in diameter have already been dug out.
A peculiarity of them is that the wood is stained, probably through chemical action in the soil, in all shades ranging from dark brown to yellow and a bright rose color. The owner expects to dig up 150,000 tons of these logs, the wood of which is admirably suited for fine inland work. He thinks he will get them all out now instead of letting them carbonize to form a coal mine for his remote descendants.

MONEY TO LOAN

Before making a loan there are two things to be considered. Have your dealings confidential and be sure you do not jeopardize your securities or peace of mind. All companies guarantee these things in their advertisements but a shrewd borrower will go deeper than an advertisement that is only meant to draw attention to their line of business, and investigate for himself the methods of the firm with whom he intends to deal. Our methods are open to any investigation.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market. Oct. 10.—Unsettled after the Italian-Turkish war may embroil other nations and seriously interfere with grain shipments from the Black sea gave the wheat market an upward tone. Opening prices were 4c to 4 1/2c higher. December started at 88 1/2c to 89 1/2c, a gain of 1/2c to 3/4c, and rose to 89 1/2c.

The Washington figures regarding corn made that cereal firm. December opened 4c to 4 1/2c up at 64 1/2c to 65c, and seemed inclined to hold within that range. Oats received no strength from other grain. December started unchanged at 17 1/2c and receded to 17 1/4c to 17 1/2c.

Provisions suffered from lack of support. First sales were 5c to 7 1/2c lower. Higher. December started at 15c to 15 1/2c with January deliveries 15 1/2c to 15 3/4c for pork, $8.77 1/2c for lard and $9.07 1/2c to $9.10 for ribs.

C. N. BLISS DEAD; LONG IN POLITICS

Prominent in Business and for Many Years Leader of His Party.

IN M'KINLEY CABINET

New York, Oct. 30. — Cornelius N. Bliss, former secretary of the interior and prominent for many years in business and politics, died here last night. From 1892 to 1908 he was treasurer of the republican national committee and participated in the party councils that directed several strenuous presidential campaigns.

C. N. BLISS
U. S. DEPT. OF THE INTERIOR

He was born at Fall River, Mass., Jan. 26, 1833. His ancestors were early settlers in New England. His father died when he was an infant and his mother later was married to Edward S. Keep. Young Bliss lived with relatives at Fall River until he was 14 years old, when he joined his mother at New Orleans. There he completed his schooling and for a year was employed in his stepfather's counting-room.

He then went to Boston, and in 1848 entered the employ of James M. Beebe & Co., at that time the largest importing dry goods house in America. The firm was dissolved in 1866 and soon afterward Mr. Bliss organized in New York the firm of Wright, Bliss & Fabian, with branches in Boston and Philadelphia.

Mr. Bliss attained prominence in the commercial world and his services were in great demand by powerful corporate interests. He was director and officer in several banks, trust companies and insurance companies.

Long Career in Politics.
An active interest in politics was taken by Mr. Bliss for many years. He was head of a committee that came to Chicago in 1884 to urge the re-nomination of Arthur for the presidency. He was chairman of the New York state republican committee in 1887 and 1888 and was treasurer of the republican national committee from 1892 to 1908.

In 1890-91 Mr. Bliss was a member of the International American Conference at Washington.

The appointment as secretary of the interior was made by President McKinley. Mr. Bliss served from March 4, 1897, to Feb. 20, 1899, when he retired for business reasons.

He was a member of several clubs and of the New England Society. In 1850 he married Miss Elizabeth Plummer, of Boston.

NO INDIGESTION OR SICK STOMACH

Gas, Heartburn, Dyspepsia and All Misery in Stomach Vanishes.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pope's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is feeble and nothing rouses you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any, that there is nothing really wrong with this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

TAFT IS GUEST OF BALLINGER

President Visits City of Seattle, Speaks and Goes to Dinner.

OLD SECRETARY HOST

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 30.—President Taft spent the night here and arose refreshed for a hard day's work which was to include two speeches, a visit to the Puget Sound navy yard and a steamer ride to Tacoma. Mr. Taft breakfasted with Congressman Wm. E. Humphrey and then participated in the christening of his eleven weeks' old grand nephew, Charles Taft Snowden.

At 11 o'clock the president with a military escort left the hotel for a parade through the business streets, the high schools and state university, dismissed their students who mingled with the street throngs and made the air ring with their cheers.

Addresses Crowd; Visits Ballinger.
At noon the president addressed a great open air meeting. He spoke for more than half an hour to a demonstrative and sympathetic crowd.

Immediately after the meeting the president went to the residence of former secretary of the interior, Richard A. Ballinger, where he ate dinner. There were less than a dozen other guests. The president then went to the harbor front, where a steamer was waiting to convey him across Puget Sound to the Puget Sound navy yard at Bremerton and then to Tacoma. A big public meeting in Tacoma tonight will end the day's program.

NEW SCHOOL ON SPY RUN.
Board Decides to Begin Work Early Next Spring.

The city school board at its meeting Monday evening announced that it expected to begin early next spring the erection of a new school building at Spy Run avenue and Ruth street. The building will cost about $40,000 and will be similar to the James H. Smart building. Two houses at that point were sold, one to Peter Nussbaum for $201 and another to George A. Kiefer for $855.

Bids for the installation of seats in the auditorium of the James H. Smart school were taken under advisement. Dr. C. R. Danver, chief medical inspector of the schools, was in attendance at the board meeting and reported that the school city had been divided into districts and that he was ready to begin the medical inspection with Dr. F. J. Schulz and Dr. J. H. Gilpin, recently appointed to the work. Dr. Danver's request for still further assistance was denied by the board.

SAYS HE HAS OFFENDED DIETY.
Insane on Religion, He Cuts Off a Foot and an Ear.

Sumpter, Ore., Oct. 30.—A case of self-maiming which is almost without a parallel has just been reported from the little mining town of Greenhorn, in this district. The victim of his own violence is William Bovick, a woodcutter who lived in a cabin near Greenhorn. He was found by a mail carrier, who, in passing the cabin, heard Bovick groaning.

On entering the place the first thing that attracted his notice was the fearful sight of the woodcutter lying on the floor with one foot almost completely severed from the leg. Blood heaped up the walls and floor in every direction and the place reeked of shambles.

The injured man said he had severed his foot accidentally while cutting wood. The mail carrier immediately went to Greenhorn, procured help, and the party conveyed Bovick to town.

It was also found that in addition to severing his foot, he cut off one ear.

The explanation he finally made was that while in his cabin he became possessed of the idea that he must atone for his sins by making a sacrificial offering, and in order to appease the Deity he took an ax, severed his foot, and then with a keen knife removed his ear. As it was plain the man was insane he was taken to the county seat for examination and later to the asylum.

REACHES FOR WAYNE.
John Walsh is Crossing Continent on Pedestrian Tour.

Twenty-three days out from New York in his trip abroad from that city to San Francisco, John Walsh, of Portland, Maine, sixty years of age, arrived in Fort Wayne at midnight. He made the trip from Leipsic, Ohio, since 8:30 o'clock Monday. Walsh stopped here only long enough to have his credentials signed and left for Huntington, expecting to reach that city in time for breakfast. Walsh is a veteran soldier who has undertaken the cross-continent walk in seventy days.

WANTED ALL HIS NAME ON DOCKET

Mother Insisted That Her Black Son Be Put Right in Court.

HAD A LIGHT DOCKET

When the name of Harrison Wendell was called in the city court today as black a piece of thirteen-year-old humanity as has ever appeared before Judge Frank Mungovan started for the witness stand, but his mother halted him and insisted that the affidavit be changed and now the record reads Harrison Wendell Matthews and the lad is in charge of the probation officer on a charge of petit larceny growing out of the theft of Henry J. Paulsen's bicycle.

The mother evidently thought there was little use to handicap her offspring with the high-brow moniker and let it go to waste on his first public appearance and she rectified the error of the police department.

The Other Cases.
Frank Wilson, up Monday on a charge of drunkenness, was back on the same charge after his promise to get out of the city and he drew $5 and costs.

Robert Patterson, a negro, formerly employed at the Fischer bath house, attached himself to an overcoat belonging to one of the guests and pawned it for $1. He went over with $10 and costs and thirty days attached.

Raymond Donahue and Carl Campbell were convicted of stealing a razor from Peter Foy, who had thrown open his Duck alley establishment to them when they were in hard luck and they got $10 and costs apiece and ten days.

A case of assault and battery against Andy Erdman and his wife, Helen, was continued until tomorrow. They are accused of assaulting Charles Strub and breaking a couple of ribs for him.

FIGHTING IN CHINA.
Hankow, China, Oct. 30.—Much firing can be heard this afternoon in the direction of Wu Chang. Communication with that city has been cut off. Several large fires are seen. It is evident that the soldiers have gone over to the revolutionaries following the execution of four conspirators at Wu Chang early today.
